Request on Voting Machines Turned Down

BUS SERVICE STOPS AS FIRM QUITS

Board Urges Issue Be Put Up to Electors

Commissioners Cite Lack of Finances in Rejecting Proposals

Purchase of voting machines for Marion County, as requested by the board of elections, was turned down this morning by county commissioners.

Instead, commissioners in their resolution recommended that "purchase of voting machines be submitted to the qualified electors of Marion County for their determination."

Elections officials on Jan. 15 submitted to commissioners a resolution requesting the purchase of 77 voting machines at an estimated cost of $111,650 which they claimed would save the county about $10,000 annually. This would mean, elections officials maintained, that the machines would pay for themselves in 10 years. Commissioners, however, have expressed doubts the savings would be so great.

In their resolution denying the purchase of machines, commissioners said "after due consideration of the resolution submitted by the board of elections, and of all matters involved, including all types of financing, and after investigation of the possible savings from the purchase of voting machnes, and after considering expenses of other subdivisions, and due to the lack of available finances, determine that voting machines should not be purchased" by them.

The question of voting machines cannot be submitted to the voters by commissioners directly, they learned last month in a legal opinion given them by Prosecuting Attorney Ralph E. Carhart. The only way it can appear on the ballots is by a petition signed by

Dunkirk Man Becomes First Hardin Fatality

KENTON — A 43-year-old deaf-mute became Hardin County's first traffic fatality of the year when he was killed instantly Wednesday night at the intersection of State Routes 68 and 704, four miles north of here.

Irvin Oates, 43, of near Dunkirk, was killed about 7.55 p.m. Wednesday as he was walking along the right side of Route 68. Driver of a car which struck him from behind was Leonard Boddy, 56, of Ann Arbor, Mich., who told state highway patrolmen it was raining and he was blinded by lights of an oncoming car. State patrolmen said visibility was poor at that time and Boddy was not held.

Oates died of a fractured skull and neck and multiple fractures of the body. The body was taken directly to the Price Funeral Home in Kenton and was later transferred to Kieper's Funeral Home in Dunkirk.

Surviving are: his mother, Mrs John Oates of near Dunkirk; and a brother, John, of Findlay.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Caesar-Coca Star TV Comedy Team To Split

NEW YORK (AP)—The top NBC television team of Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca will break up at the end of this season, the World-Telegram and Sun reported today.

The newspaper's amusement editor, Marie Torre, said Caesar, who now earns $25,000 a week, will sign a 10-year contract with NBC for his own one-hour show starting next fall

Miss Coca, who gets $10,000 a week, will remain under contract to NBC and "participate" in a half-hour comedy series, also starting in the fall, Miss Torre said.

Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens (right) and Chairman Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) of the Senate investigations subcommittee, shake hands after a closed meeting at which they appeared to reach agreement on further procedure in inquiry into the granting of an honorable discharge to Dr. Irving Peress, New York dentist.

Stevens Reported Set To Quit Unless Ike Stands By Him

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens was reported today to be seeking a public expression of support from President Eisenhower in his dealings with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), and to be prepared to resign if he does not get it.

Sources close to Stevens said the Army secretary had been in touch with top White House aides, and had told them he would insist on one of the two following courses of action:

1. A statement from the President that Eisenhower agrees with Stevens that he did not "capitulate" during yesterday's secret session with McCarthy on the question of calling Army officers for testimony in McCarthy's inquiry into what he calls the Army's "coddling of Communists."

2. Agreement from the President that Stevens can say in a statement Eisenhower is in full agreement with the secretary's position.

Stevens was reported to be angry and indignant over some phases of his go-round with McCarthy.

Further, he was said to be troubled over the possible effect on Army morale

The secretary went to his office early and launched into a series of conferences with top advisers.

One high Army officer told a reporter: "I would not be surprised at anything that happens."

Sources close to the secretary said it was Stevens' understanding agreement was reached in his conference yesterday with Republican members of McCarthy's subcommittee that any Army officers called before the subcommittee in the future would be accorded respect.

He was said to be angry that

Celebration of Red Cross Month Slated in Marion

The Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross will join in the national observance of Red Cross Month, which gets under way March 1, L. H. Larsen, chapter chairman, announced today.

As a part of the observance, membership cards will be sent to all Marion County residents who contributed to the Red Cross through the Marion County United Appeals campaign last October. One dollar represents the annual membership in the Red Cross, and each donor contributing $4.50 or more to the United Appeals campaign is considered a member.

WITH NATIONWIDE interest centered on Red Cross for the month, the local chapter has chosen this time to appeal to the generosity of its friends for additional financial support to carry on its services throughout the year.

The need for additional support resulted from the failure of the United Appeals campaign to reach its goal last year, and agencies found it necessary to curtail their budgets.

Lewis Ashworth is serving as the fund campaign chairman for the month. He emphasizes that no canvass for funds will be made either in homes or business places but that the chapter is relying on those interested in seeing the work carried on in its fullest capacity for additional aid at this time.

ANYONE WISHING to contribute may mail their contribution to the Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross, 133 W. Center St., or call the chapter office, 2-1653, and a volunteer worker will call. To carry on the year's work the chapter's budget this year was $38,560. This was reduced to $32,021.40 because the United Appeals campaign reached only 83 per cent of its goal.

The 1954 slogan is "Answer the Call—Join and Serve." Carrying on as a great fellowship of good will to which all are welcome, the simple act of joining the Red

Texans Buy C&O Stock, Believed Young Friends

(Early Story on Page 5)

CLEVELAND (AP) — Clinton W. Murchison, Dallas oil and gas millionaire, and Six W. Richardson of Fort Worth have bought the 800,000 shares of New York Central shares owned by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, the C.&O announced today.

Murchison is reported to be a friend of Robert R. Young, now engaged in a battle for control of the New York Central System. The sale price was given as $25 a share.

Witness Tells Of Accused's Love Tangle

Sternbaum Requested Letters Be Burned, Mansfield Jury Told

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—He put his head in his hands and said, "I love you, Marge. I want to marry you, but I wouldn't kill anyone." Then he sat down on the couch and started to cry.

That's the way the state's star witness in the Max Sternbaum first-degree murder trial here described Sternbaum's answer to her question, "Did you kill Leah?"

The witness, Miss Margaret Rozenman of Tiffin, is the "other" woman in the triangle. She took the stand yesterday to describe her love affair with Sternbaum, 35-year-old supermarket executive

Charged With Killing

Sternbaum is charged with killing his 31-year-old wife, Leah, whose beaten and burned body was found in the supermarket offices the night of Dec. 3, 1952.

The state claims Sternbaum killed his wife so he could marry Miss Rozenman, who was a lifelong friend of Mrs. Sternbaum.

Miss Rozenman, a former Columbus secretary, also told of a rehearsal she and Sternbaum held in her apartment after she was notified she must testify before the state fire marshal who was investigating the supermarket fire.

She said she pretended she was the fire marshal and Sternbaum pretended he was she. She told the court he cautioned her to destroy his love letters and warned her not to mention the divorce he hoped to get from his wife. He asked her, she said, to "minimize" their relationship.

She testified she replied, "How can you minimize something like this?"

Burned Letters

She said she burned the love letters, "only saving one," and also tore out pages from books Sternbaum had inscribed and presented to her. Many of the volumes were poetry, including "This Is My Beloved."

The papers were burned in her kitchen sink, she said.

Then she told a story of how suspicion and despair hounded the lovers. They met secretly, she testified. Sternbaum believed at times he was being followed, and she told him she "must" tell some one of their affair.

She testified she had once asked Sternbaum "Why didn't you go back in after Leah?"

And, she said, he answered, "I didn't know anything about Leah until I was told at the hospital."

Earlier in the three-week trial, neighbors testified Sternbaum, who had crawled to the porch of the office during the fire, had told them "Leah's in there burning up."

Sternbaum claims he was attacked by burglars who set fire to the building.

Auto Plates on Sale Monday

Q-71
OHIO - 1954

MRS. CORAH WEBER, deputy registrar for the Marion Auto License Bureau, shows a new 1954 Ohio plate to Mrs. Ruth Swambaugh, 569 Universal Ave. In the background is Mrs. Velma Koons, bureau clerk.

The new plates, with white numerals on a maroon background, will go on sale Monday, March 1 at the Marion bureau on Court St. and in village bureaus.

There will be two plates this year, rather than the single plate issued in 1953.

The Marion bureau will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Plans for Saturday hours are indefinite.

Deadline for buying plates is midnight Wednesday, March 31.

Passenger car plates cost $10.25 while cost of truck plates is determined by the truck's weight. All owners of trailers under 4,000 pounds must bring in their 1953 registration cards when purchasing 1954 licenses.

The following tips for buying plates were given by the bureau: 1. Owners must bring their car titles if the title isn't stamped as of 1953; 2. Owners must bring their registration cards; 3. All persons holding small numbers—from Q-51 to Q-1,000—must purchase them by March 10 or they will be sold in order.

Democrats Try For Slowdown, Senator Claims

Johnson Argues Party Ready for Quick Vote On Treaty Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) angrily accused Democrats of using "slowdown" tactics against President Eisenhower's program after they forced an abrupt Senate adjournment last night, 48-45.

Knowland, the GOP floor leader, told reporters, "It is apparent to me that there has been a filibuster going on to prevent action on this constitutional amendment." He referred to the proposal, offered originally by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and since modified in major respects, to limit treaty powers. The Senate has been debating it most of the time since Jan. 20.

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas quickly wanted to know if Knowland believes "the Bricker amendment is a part of the Eisenhower program."

"If so," Johnson asked newsmen, "where does he get his information?"

The White House has fought the Bricker proposal strenuously.

Warren Okay Expected After Favorable Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 12-3 committee vote cleared the way today for speedy Senate confirmation of Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, said he planned to take President Eisenhower's nomination of Warren up in the Senate tomorrow. "I believe the Senate will give the chief justice an overwhelming vote of confidence," he added.

No senator, not even any of the three who voted against committee clearance, has said publicly he will vote against confirming Warren's appointment.

The Republican former governor of California has been serving on the Supreme Court since last October under an interim appointment

Slash in Budget Of $166 Million Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 12½ per cent cut in the combined budgets of the State, Justice and Commerce departments and the "Voice of America" was recommended today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Moneywise, the committee said, those agencies should get along on $1,146,988,000 instead of the $1,313,920,960 recommended by President Eisenhower for the 1955 fiscal year which starts July 1.

Most of the $166,932,960 cut would be borne by the Commerce Department, big slashes being in appropriations for the federal aid highway system and for payment of air mail subsidies. The committee conceded Congress might have to pump more money into both these programs before the next year ends

The committee's actions were embodied in a bill to be debated next week in the House.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation got all of the $78,282,000 it requested. Rep. Clevenger (R-Ohio), who headed a subcommittee which wrote the bill, said the committee has "confidence in the effectiveness" of the organization headed by J. Edgar Hoover.

The only other major agency to get the full amount it wanted was the Immigration and Naturalization Service. It was alloted 39 million dollars.

Egyptian Ruler Ousted; Syrians Threaten Coup

Army Leaders Drop Naguib on Charge He Sought Dictatorship

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One of the Middle East's "strong men"—Gen. Mohamed Naguib of Egypt—was squeezed out today and another—president, Adib Shishekly of Syria—was on a shaky seat.

Egypt's ruling revolutionary council dropped Naguib as president and premier of the young republic on charges he was trying to pull Egypt "back to absolute dictatorship." To replace him as premier, the council named hard-boiled Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser, the driving force behind the army coup that ousted King Farouk from the throne 19 months ago.

Revolt Claimed

In Syria, radio Aleppo said a large section of the Syrian Army had revolted against Shishekly. An earlier Aleppo broadcast, heard in London, claimed—without confirmation — Shishekly had been overthrown. Broadcasts from Damascus, the Syrian capital, made no mention of any kind of trouble whatever.

The Aleppo broadcast said troops from Aleppo and the northern districts of Syria had seized Aleppo, largest city in the country, and declared open rebellion under the leadership of Col. Mustafa Hammoud.

Called 'Tyrant'

Calling Shishekly "a tyrant, oppressor and slave of the imperialists," the broadcast said Hammoud had given the president an ultimatum to resign by tonight and leave the country within 24 hours.

The Egyptian chief's ouster was announced following a heated session of the 11 young Army officers making up the council that has ruled Egypt since the ouster of Farouk.

Reports to Nation

Dulles Says U.S. Gained Much in Big Four Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles has assured the nation it lost nothing at Berlin and gained much — including a chance to bring Red China "before the bar of world opinion."

Dulles, who returned five days ago from the month-long Big Four talks, told a nationwide radio-television audience last night:

"You may ask whether it was worthwhile to go to Berlin . . . My answer is 'yes' and I have no doubt about that."

He said two results "will profoundly influence the future" and described them as:

1. Soviet Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov was forced by the U.S., French and British delegates "to show Russia's hand" — a hand which Dulles said hung on to all it had, including East Germany and East Austria, and grabbed for more.

2. Molotov gave in, at the last hour in a "concession . . . not to be ignored," and signed a declaration spelling out U. S. refusal to recognize Red China.

It was this point—America's long-withheld diplomatic recognition of Communist China—which Dulles hit time and again. His half-hour speech, besides domestic radio-TV coverage, was beamed also in 33 languages to both sides of the Iron Curtain.

His report to the nation climaxed his campaign to convince critics anywhere that the Communist world was not "appeased" in arrangements agreed upon at Berlin for the holding April 26 of an Asian peace conference at Geneva, Switzerland, and in a lack of progress on the German and Austrian questions.

Transit Head Gives Up as Losses Climb

Councilmen, Mayor Seek To Interest New Company in Franchise

Bus service was stopped in Marion in a surprise move by Floyd Kreisel, president of Marion Transit, Inc., at 8 p.m. last night.

Calling company employes together, Kreisel announced he had no money to pay further wages or to buy gasoline to put the buses back on the streets this morning.

John Davis, newly elected president of Local 222, Transit Workers of America, said Kreisel asked the employes if they had any suggestions for keeping the company in business.

When the drivers and mechanics could give no suggestions Kreisel told them, "Well, I'm through . . . there's no use asking you men to continue working any longer if I can't pay you," according to Davis.

Losing Money Every Day

Wilbur Poorman, company business manager and dispatcher, said the company has been losing money every day since service was restored Feb. 1 after 10 days of idleness. However he could give no exact figures of the amount of daily loss. Kreisel was scheduled to be in Marion to speak on behalf of the company at 9 a.m. this morning but later called and said he couldn't be here until 11 a.m. At 11..0 a.m. he still was not in town. His home is in Worthington.

Meanwhile Mayor Harold F. Robinson called a meeting of city officials and the bus drivers to discuss the situation and determine what could be done, if anything.

At this meeting, held in the mayor's office at 10 a.m. it was decided by councilmen attending that a special Council meeting be called for 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Purpose of the meeting is to "either take away the franchise of the Marion Transit Co. or accept voluntary surrender of it by Kreisel."

Seek Another Company

Acting swiftly, Mayor Robinson and councilmen attending the meeting took immediate steps to try to find some other firm interested in starting a new bus company.

Councilman-at-large Richard E. Lister called two local men, who wished to remain unidentified for the present, who had indicated an interest in operating a bus company.

Mayor Robinson also planned to call a company at Huron, Mich., which had presented a proposition for bus service in Marion some three years ago at the same time Kreisel was granted the franchise for the Marion Transit Co.

At the meeting in the mayor's office today, Davis reported the bus company owes all the drivers about nine days' back wages and there apparently is enough cash on hand to pay only a portion of the wages.

One Buys Own Gas

He added the drivers had done everything possible in the last three weeks to keep the company in operation. One reported, "I even bought three gallons of gas last night (Wednesday) to keep my bus on the street."

Davis said many of the drivers had held off cashing pay checks in the hopes the company could some way solve its financial plight.

He reported Kreisel apparently made his decision to "throw in the towel" when he became aware he would be unable to meet a $40[illegible] insurance bill due this week," and a bill to the bureau of unemployment compensation.

Figures Not Substantiated

None of these figures could be substantiated today. Company books are maintained by Mail-Me Monday which would not release figures of company losses to Councilman Lister except to say Kreisel was completely out of money, had no way to pay wages or gasoline bills and that all the company assets were mortgaged.

Davis said he was told by Kreisel

Power Shovel Reports Profit Of $1,092,715

Decline in Earnings Laid to Higher Taxes In Stockholder Report

A 1953 net profit of $1,092,715, equal to $3.94 per share, was reported today by the Marion Power Shovel Co. in its annual report to shareholders. This represents a decrease from the 1952 profit of $1,172,820 or $4.26 per share.

Net income before taxes showed a $169,895 increase over the corresponding 1952 figure, but federal income and excess profits taxes for 1953 have been estimated at $2,250,000 as compared with $2,000,000 for the preceding year.

Shipments in 1953 were down 10.8 per cent, from $29,432,940 in 1952 to $26,242,569. "More highly competitive conditions and reduction in military requirements accounted for the decrease in the volume of shipments," President John P. Courtright explained in his letter to stockholders.

Giant Shovel Planned

His letter contains the first announcement that a new super stripping shovel is being developed for the coal industry that will exceed the company's 45-cubic-yard models that presently are the world's largest. "This shovel will be far larger than anything as yet designed or manufactured for use in coal stripping and will give greater economies and appreciably increase potential strip coal reserves."

The company's business outlook is described:

"A reasonable backlog of unfilled new machinery orders was on hand at the end of the year. This backlog is comprised chiefly of large stripping, mining and industrial machines. Indications lead to the belief that there will be continued demand for our products in 1954. Keener competition is expected than in the past. Continued slackening in business from the coal industry still exists, but it seems possible that this phase of the business may show some increases in demand for coal stripping equipment. The volume of sales orders received in the past years from the company's clients (abroad) and continued activity in export business are most gratifying."

Dividend Payment Noted

The report reviews the board's action last year that eliminated long-standing arrearages in cumulative dividends on preferred stock and led to the payment of a 30 cent common dividend on Feb. 1. "It is hoped that future earnings will continue to justify the consideration of further dividends on common stock," Courtright said.

During the period of dividend arrearages, the number of directors making up the board was increased from nine to 15. Now that the arrearages have been eliminated, management is recommending that the shareholders consider, at the annual meeting here April 15, reducing the number of directors to 11.

made while Congress was in adjournment.

His nomination to succeed the late Fred M. Vinson in the nation's highest judicial office was submitted to the Senate for confirmation on Jan. 11, but it was only yesterday that the Senate Judiciary Committee reported it favorably.

The committee acted after a day-long session at which its only witness was taken into custody by police on a complaint that he was a fugitive from a California charge of subornation of perjury-inducing someone to lie under oath. He later was released, however, by a municipal judge.

The vote to recommend confirmation of Warren's nomination was 12-3, with Senators Kilgore (D-WVa), Eastland (D-Miss) and Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) casting the opposition votes.

Mayor Asks for Support in Traffic Fund Campaign

Citizens Urged To Make Contributions to Drive; Goal Is $10,500

Renewed efforts to complete a six-months campaign to raise funds for a master traffic survey in Marion were given a boost Wednesday by Mayor Harold F. Robinson.

Meeting with representatives of a Chamber of Commerce joint traffic committee and a traffic survey and grade crossing elimination citizens' committee, he urged all civic minded Marionites to donate as much as possible to the drive.

TOTAL AMOUNT still needed is estimated at some $10,500 to put the drive over the top. In the previous six months since last September, the citizen committee has raised only $1,680. Previously City Council set aside $6,000 and the county commissioners $2,000 as their shares of the $20,000 total estimated cost of the survey.

At the meeting held in the mayor's office Wednesday plans for a concentrated drive among the city's business places were discussed.

John V. Ruth, chairman of the citizens' committee, presented a list of all business places to A. F. Busch, chairman of joint traffic committee.

BUSCH SAID the list of names was divided with about 10 names assigned to each of 26 members of the committee.

The list of names and instructions were mailed out Wednesday night and all the committeemen should receive their assignments today or tomorrow, he said.

Deadline for a final report on the solicitation among business men was set for March 6, just a week from Saturday.

Busch urged all solicitors to make personal visits to the businessmen assigned them and ask for as large a donation as possible.

Dependent on total collections in this portion of the campaign, the committee plans other activities to bring the entire drive to a successful completion as quickly as possible. Tentative date for reaching the goal is March 22.

OTHER PLANS suggested at a meeting Monday for raising funds are formation of a traffic boosters' club, a "white elephant" sale, telephone, mail, and house to house canvass of all Marion residences, and posting of a booth near the deputy registrar of motor vehicles office on Court St. to solicit donations from automobile license purchasers during March.

The total money raised will be used to hire professional traffic engineers to come to the city to make a complete survey of city and township streets and highways and draw up a master plan for eliminating traffic problems and railroad grade crossings.

Completion of the survey will place the city in a more favorable position to obtain federal and state aid on any projects for bettering traffic conditions, Busch said.

Stevens

the memorandum of agreement, read by Sen. Mundt (R-SD) after the session, omitted any reference to this and to feel it left him in an untenable position.

Contents of Memo

The memo said it had been agreed (A) the subcommittee should be given the names of all those involved in the honorable discharge of an officer McCarthy calls a "Fifth Amendment Communist," and (B) these officers shall be available for questioning.

This was widely interpreted as a capitulation by Stevens since earlier he had directed that two officers disregard subpoenas from McCarthy.

Sources at the Capitol said it was argued to Stevens in the closed door session with the subcommittee members that he had put himself in the position of defying Congress.

Further, it was argued irreparable damage might be done to the Republican party and to the Eisenhower administration if Stevens and McCarthy had a hammer-and-tongs session before a nationwide TV audience.

Hearing Called Off

Stevens was scheduled to appear before the committee today and major TV networks had arranged telecasts. This session was called off when the agreement was reached.

Pentagon reporters were given to understand that senior Army officials had been urging Stevens to put his side of the case on the record, primarily to bolster morale in the Army.

These officers told Stevens the rank and file of the Army knew only what they had read in the newspapers or heard over the radio and that the line taken by virtually all publications was that Stevens had yielded to McCarthy.

At the White House, presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said in response to questions that Stevens telephoned him at home last night to discuss the newspaper stories.

Hagerty said Stevens also conferred by telephone with "several other members" of the White House staff.

Stevens was described as shocked that his agreeing to McCarthy's demands was considered a defeat for him and a victory for the senator. At a showdown meeting yesterday attended by the two principals and the other Republican members of McCarthy's subcommittee, an agreement was reached that McCarthy might question all Army personnel involved in the Peress matter.

Stevens earlier had ordered two officers to disregard subcommittee subpoenas and the Army had ignored McCarthy's call for the names of the persons involved.

Obtains Guarantees N

But Stevens was said to feel that he had obtained guarantees about future handling of Army witnesses that, in his view, counterbalanced the concessions he made. He had objected strongly to the line taken by McCarthy in questioning Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker at a closed hearing in New York last week and had said he could not permit such "abuse" of officers.

The Army secretary, it was learned, had prepared a statement that was to have been read to the McCarthy subcommittee today. It said in part:

"I am here today to defend an officer of the U.S. Army . . . who was humiliated in a hearing before this committee . . . Because he was carrying out my orders. I am here because I feel the integrity of the entire Army is involved. The prestige and morale of our armed forces are too important to the security of the nation to be weakened by attacks on our military personnel."

Stevenson Critical

However, sharply worded statements that the administration had yielded to McCarthy came from Adlai Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, and a spokesman for Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), an organization pledged to uphold the principles of the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

The White House said yesterday the President had no hand in arranging the McCarthy-Stevens meeting. And after the Army secretary came out of it, he told newsmen he does not "consider that I am a person who capitulates or retreats."

The "memorandum of understanding" that resulted from the meeting, besides the specific agreements on further information for McCarthy's subcommittee, contained a statement that the Army was in agreement with the subcommittee on the importance of rooting out Communists from the armed services and that the Army's own investigation of the Peress matter would continue.

McCarthy has called Peress a "Fifth Amendment Communist." Peress, now a New York dentist, has termed the charges "sheer nonsense."

Father and Son Dinner Held at Marion Church

Attendance was approximately 100 at a Father and Son banquet held Monday night at the First Evangelical and Reformed Church basement rooms served by women of the CIB Class. It was the first such event held in several years at the church and was sponsored by the CIB Class of which William Bishop is president, with the idea of establishing an annual custom.

Guest speaker was Arthur Haas, executive secretary of the YMCA, who spoke on "Power." Preceding the dinner, the Sunday School orchestra played several numbers. The group includes Patty Matthews, Nancy Cramer, Amy Miller, Janet Augenstein, Jerry Fogle, Linda Gehres, Janice Gehres, Judy Ehlen, Howard Klehm, Gene Kleppinger, Kenneth Kirkpatrick, Robert Griffith, Jack and Bruce Ehlen and Paul Griffith.

Group singing followed the meal, and Jack Ehlen acted as toastmaster. Melvin Bernow presented a comedy skit, "Casey at the Bat," and selections were by a German band known as "Kirkpatrick's Hungry Five" made up of Kenneth Kirkpatrick, Tom Hayman, Ermin Seckel, Jerry Emery, and Roger Ward. Paul Griffith sang two comedy numbers accompanied by his son, Robert, followed by the talk by Mr. Haas.

Provisions of Law

When a petition is filed with the elections board, Ohio law requires elections officials to notify the commissioners, who then must determine how they would prefer to purchase the machines, if voters approved their adoption.

If commissioners determine that it would be necessary or advisable to issue bonds for the purchase of the machines, then they would have to pass a resolution to submit this issue on the same ballot, but as a separate issue.

Commissioners, if they had approved elections officials' request to adopt voting machines, had these four ways of acquiring them: cash payment, issuance and sale of bonds after voter approval, issuance and sale of negotiable promissory notes, or leasing machines.

The second method, issuance and sale of promissory notes, was the one recommended by the board of elections. Commissioners, however, by their action today, indicated they favor the issuance of bonds after voter approval.

Leasing Machines Rejected

Commissioners also had considered leasing of machines, but turned down the idea. Cash payment for machines was out of the question, since they do not have enough money, commissioners say, pointing out that budget requests from the various county subdivisions were approximately $100,000 more than the fund available.

Elections officials, when they submitted their request for the voting machines, said that they would be faced with the task of setting up 18 additional precincts by November to take care of the increasing number of voters. According to state law, no more than 400 voters are supposed to be assigned to any one precinct.

This law has not generally been enforced on a statewide basis, having been left up to the discretion of local elections board. While in Marion last week, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown indicated that if the situation got to the point where 800 or more voters were assigned to a precinct, then his office would step in and require reassignment.

Asked To Trim Size

Harold Patrick, chairman of the local board of elections, reported that Brown had told him and elections officials from surrounding counties meeting here last week to start breaking down those precincts which had 500 or more voters.

If voting machines had been approved by commissioners, elections officials maintained that they could consolidate the present 55 precincts in the city and county to 39 precincts. This would result in personnel and equipment savings, they pointed out.

Consideration for the leasing of voting machines was given by commissioners last Thursday when they met with Roy L. Gustavson, representative of a machine manufacturing company, and elections officials.

Gustavson told them his company would rent machines at a fee of $150 per year, plus a transportation fee averaging ten dollars per machine. The rental fee would apply on the purchase price of the machines if commissioners later decided they wanted to buy them.

Makes Visit to Dayton

Commissioners yesterday journeyed to Dayton where they talked with officials, including Montgomery County commissioners, about voting machines. Montgomery County several years ago purchased voting machines by issuing negotiable promissory notes, and last year submitted to voters a bond issue, which was approved, for the purchase of additional machines.

Commissioners here reported that this action strengthened their position in doubting the savings achieved by use of voting machines. They said that if the claimed savings materialized, Montgomery County officials should have been able to purchase additional machines with the savings, instead of having to ask voters to approve the bond issue.

that there was some $200 cash in the bank and the company may have taken in as much as $200 yesterday.

There are presently 10 drivers who have not been paid an average of $55 a week due them for nine days' back pay.

In addition the company payroll includes Kreisel, Poorman, and two mechanics, a helper, and a cleanup man at the garage.

Fewer Restrictions Favored

In brief discussions today, Lister said he was in favor of giving any new company "a more open franchise," than Marion Transit's franchise. Councilman Harold Smith, First Ward, agreed with this in part but said he was against giving any company a free rein in the city.

Lister previously had reported one of the men he called had said he would be interested in bringing in a new company, only if he were given an open franchise and operate strictly as a private business with no restrictions by Council.

Only other Councilman attending the meeting was Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward. In answer to a request of Davis that Council try to see that the bus drivers obtain employment with any new company, Quaintance answered that Council would suggest this but could do little else. First concern of Council will be to try to get a company to come in and take up the franchise and restore public transportation as soon as possible, he said. Council has no control over who the company hires, he explained.

Marion Transit Co. was granted a franchise to operate in Marion in 1950. A predecessor company, Marion Rapid Transit, went out of business when faced with a strike of drivers who sought higher wages.

Minor Traffic Mishap Reported by City Police

One minor traffic accident was reported today by police. None were reported by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

A car driven by Elwood Noble, 43, of near Marion collided with a taxi parked in front of 255 W. Center St. at 12:41 today. The cab driven by George Dall, 43, of 251 Uncapher Ave., was undamaged, while Noble's car was moderately damaged. No one was injured.

Savings Bond Sales Increase

January Total Hits $139.969 in County

Sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds for January in Marion County amounted to $139,969, Robert E. White, chairman of the county savings bond committee, announced today.

The figure compared with $116,681 sold in January, 1953.

Ohio sales of the bonds in the first month of 1954 were the highest for any January since 1947 and 20 percent above purchases for the same month last year, White said.

Sixty-eight of the 88 Ohio counties showed gains and only two of the eight metropolitan counties failed to report higher sales for the month, White said. Top gains in the big-city counties came from Mahoning with 74 per cent; Lucas with 50 per cent; and Cuyahoga with 27 per cent.

National sales for the month were up 10 per cent and highest for any January since 1947. State totals were $28,912,555, or $4,834,089 over the $$24,078,466 invested in E and H Bonds in January, 1953.

White reported that the Treasury Department has set a goal of a "billion more in 1954," which amounts to a 25 per cent increase over total national E and H Bond sales last year. During the first quarter of 1954 all companies will be requested to promote payroll savings plans for automatic purchase of bonds. The state goal for sales of E and H Bonds in 1954 is $343,400,000 issue price.

Better Child-Parent Relations Needed, Church Group Is Told

The need for better understanding between children and their parents, especially between boys and their fathers, was stressed Tuesday night by Harold Edwards, director of instruction in Marion City schools.

Speaking at the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church father and son banquet, Edwards said many juvenile delinquents come from homes where there is friction between parents. Edwards said delinquency and poor parental relations are closely co-related, as shown by these figures

1. 7 to 10 delinquents come from homes lacking family recreation. 2. 6 to 10 have fathers who drink excessively, 3. 4 of 5 have parents who have no interest in their children's friends, 4. 3 of 4 are permitted by their parents to come and go as they please, 5. over 60 per cent of juvenile boys say their parents are indifferent to them, 6. few delinquents get religious training.

One in 18 Arrested

Edwards pointed out that a tremendous number of our youngsters are arrested each year. One of every eighteen U. S. youngsters is picked up by the police each year, about 100,000 spend at least one time a year in jail and 385,000 are brought into court.

More adequate education can help alleviate this problem, Edwards said. At present the U. S. spends two per cent of its national income for education and this amount needs to be increased to four per cent.

Russia spends considerably more on education than the U. S., Edwards said, but Russian children don't get the same kind of education.

Ohio Falls Behind

Ohio needs to take a new look at its education picture, he said. The fifth wealthiest state, Ohio ranks 47th in per cent of wealth spent for education. As of December there was 29 million dollars from sales tax collection in the state treasury, some of which could be used for education, he said.

He said the U. S. taxpayer spends twice as much for crime as for education and ten times more for crime than for the church each year. For every dollar spent on education, $1.82 goes to crime work. Ten crime dollars are spent for every church dollar.

Each U. S. family pays about $272 a year for education and $50 a year for the church while the annual amount spent for crime is $495.

Red Cross

Cross enables everyone to serve his neighbors in distress or need, Ashworth said.

MEMBERSHIP in the Red Cross pays rich rewards in personal satisfaction and is a great investment in the spiritual values that give meaning to daily living, he said. When you join the Red Cross, the chairman points out, "You identify yourself with each individual act of mercy that this great organization performs anywhere in the world. Just as surely as if you had extended a helping hand yourself, you are answering these calls of help—thousands of them each day—by your membership in the Red Cross."

"You are there," he said, "when the shattered lives and homes of disaster victims are rebuilt, when blood saves a life, when emergency help is given to servicemen, veterans, or their families, when a drowning child is rescued and revived, when the warm sympathy of a chapter volunteer brightens a hospital patient's lonely hours, when a forlorn foreign youngster joyfully hugs a Junior Red Cross gift box to his chest.

"YOUR TIME, your energy, your money make Red Cross service possible. Your belief that people, and only people, matter gives strength and vitality and unified purpose to the Red Cross ideal.

"You are the Red Cross. In your hands is the measure of what the Red Cross can do in the year ahead for the stricken and troubled, who call for the help they must have. Answer their call—join and serve them through your Red Cross."

Industry Problem

By George Sokolsky

The hatters' strike in Norwalk, Connecticut, raises an issue which plagues not only industry and labor unions but also many cities and towns, particularly the one-industry towns which can be reduced to villages or to ghosts by the removal of the bread-giving industry.

SOKOLSKY

There are so many sides to the "Run-Away Industry" problem that the outsider reaches a conclusion on the subject with great difficulty. I shall state them with objectivity:

SO INDUSTRY finds that because of its geographical location, the shift of population in the country, competition from lower wages, or lower local tax, or lower transportation rates areas, it is no longer profitable to continue to operate where it is. It therefore wishes to move elsewhere.

The South and Southwest are now regarded by industrialists as preferred areas for manufacturing certain types of goods, particularly textiles. It is more efficient to erect a new plant in these areas than to continue in the old plant.

The reasons for this are not limited to the lower scale of wages or to the lack of trade unions, because wages tend in time to equalize and unions fight for membership wherever mills and factories exist.

Cheaper transportation costs, lower tax rates, superior weather conditions, cheaper power, and other factors become important in a competitive situation.

THE LABOR UNION view is that hardships are created by the removal of plants, affecting entire families. Even if the company makes provision for workers to follow the plant to a new location, the family may find removal difficult.

Children have to be taken out of schools, perhaps at the wrong time from an educational standpoint or to the schools of inferior quality. Homes may have to be sold at considerable loss. Church connections are important to some.

The uprooting of long-established families may produce unfavorable social conditions.

The labor union view is that generally the run-away plant leaves for the benefit of a lower wage scale.

THE LOCAL PUBLIC view is that a long-established town, with the usual social and economic facilities developed over a period of decades or, in some cases, centuries, may be abandoned or reduced to a ghost-town, causing hardships not only for those affiliated with the industries but those supplying services.

The social disturbances as middle class, self-employed persons are reduced to poverty and perhaps dependence.

It is impossible in case of such abandonment for storekeepers to dispose of their businesses except at a tragic loss or even at all. Doctors, lawyers, school-teachers, morticians, the clergy are all affected. The town's income from taxes is reduced.

This then is the complex of problems when a plant leaves a town and while it does occur, at times, that a new plant may come in or that the citizens unite to make facilities available for a new industry, the fact has to be accepted that an abandoned town is not often revived.

This tendency has been continuous since the Civil War period, during the great railroad building era, when industries moved closer to the railroad stations, abandoning more remote locations.

SUCH SHIFTS were made when coal power replaced water power and the process was reversed when hydroelectric power became cheaper than coal power.

Industry generally locates itself for more efficient production. A current trend is the location of steel plants closer to the seaboard to take advantage of imports of iron ore from abroad.

It is impossible to believe that so complicated a problem can only be dealt with on a class war basis and that the strike is the proper tool for its solution.

Essentially it is a problem in the growth of the United States, in the shift of population, in the mechanization of industry to the degree that human skills, and what used to be called the skilled labor market, are not very important.

It has to do with the structure of American society, particularly the uprooting of children from an environment that has become normal to them and in which social pressures are of a beneficial nature.

Two conclusions may be reached:

1. The trend to move plants to the South and Southwest will continue because it is logical;

2. The social consequences of abandoned areas, particularly in New England, cannot be ignored without disaster to the country.

Who's Abused?

By Victor Riesel

Not so long ago I got a note from Tough Tony Anastasia, brother of Albert, "The Executioner," telling me that I defamed his character and that he's not such a bad guy after all. Tony says the boys in Lindy's who know him say I got him all wrong.

RIESEL

I felt terrible because I don't like to hurt anyone's feelings, as you can tell from this writing. But now I feel just as bad. I've gone and done it again. I got another note from another sensitive soul.

I've hurt the feelings of one Bill Bufalino of the Coin Machine Workers Union, known to the bebopset as the juke boss of Detroit.

This man Bufalino has had an advantage poor Tough Tony never had, Bufalino has gone to school of higher learning and he writes me:

"Your articles become so acutely entwined and then suggest left wing or Communistic tendencies. You are certainly abusing your right of freedom of the press and are contributing greatly to whittle away the pillar of our democracy, our Federal Constitution."

BEFORE BUFALINO accused me of tampering with the "pillar of our democracy", he had some complaints. I want Bill to know I always give both sides of the story. So here's what he writes:

"I have noticed that on several occasions I have been the subject of your column. . The slightest effort on your part to look into my true background will reveal that you are in error. . .

"In my estimation, you would make a better writer of fiction because it appears you permit your imagination to run rampant; however, I must admit that your stories are interesting, but you do not have my permission to use me as one of the characters nor as the villain in your mysteries."

Then Bufalino attacks a little businessman whom I tried to calm when the merchant believe he would be killed for testifying against the juke box racket in Detroit.

THIS BUFALINO has a sense of humor, too. That's good in this grim business. He winds up his note saying:

"I also suffer from migraine headaches probably caused by that halo I wear — it's a little tight."

Very funny! But those headaches are nothing compared with what Bufalino has coming. Because at the moment his letter arrived, the news ticker flashed in with the following:

"A House subcommittee reported it has found a 'gigantic, wicked conspiracy' involving the AFL Teamsters Union in Detroit, to extort millions of dollars through threats or force from workers, independent businessmen and sometimes from the federal government.

"The joint subcommittee of the House Committees on Government Operations and Labor made the charge in a report on its hearings held in Detroit last June.

"The subcommittee said, 'The Teamsters Union Local No. 985, through its president, William E. Bufalino, is the principal offender and perpetrator of the racketeering extortion and gangsterism which was disclosed by the hearings. . .

" 'Immediate steps must be taken,' the subcommittee said, 'to avert this trend of extortion, gangsterism and dictatorship by a few selfish and power - lustful racketeers who are operating under the guise of being labor leaders.' "

THAT SAYS IT. The committee also talked of bombings, window smashings and other terror. Somebody has to answer this indictment — answer it with action.

If Bufalino is being misjudged, we all should eat our typewriter ribbons.

The time has come for Bufalino and the score of very high-up all-powerful friends he has to stop hiding behind shibboleths and phrases like "pillar of democracy."

Bufalino's strongest weapons, believe me, are the names on his letterhead: "Coin Machine Workers Union, Teamsters Local 985, Affiliated with American Federation of Labor, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Michigan Conference of Teamsters, Teamsters Joint Council No. 43, Michigan Federation of Labor."

Surely George Meany and David Beck must now set up some sort of internal policing system which will reach far down inside labor.

We all respect the union label, but it can't silence the Congress, the Department of Justice, the press. All Labor is its brothers' keeper, including Bill Bufalino.

Air Force Volunteer To Travel At 750 MPH in Rocket Sled Test

HELLOMAN AIR DEVELOPMENT CENTER, N. M. (AP)—An Air Force volunteer soon may ride a rocket sled faster than the speed of sound, with danger only an "outside chance."

Air Research and Development Command scientists are painstakingly testing and retesting new equipment, using dummies instead of humans to make it safe for man to break the sound barrier on the ground.

Faster than any groundling ever has traveled will be the 750 miles an hour—plus—some volunteer will speed.

"The scientists are doing as much research as humanly possible," said the public information officer, Maj. Orley B. Caudill. "Any danger the volunteers may face would be an outside chance."

The project, under the direction of Lt. Col. John P. Stapp, aero medical scientist, is a stab at developing equipment to enable air crews to survive bailouts from planes traveling faster than sound.

Air Force volunteers will be strapped in a chair in the rocket sled. As the sled travels along the 3,500-foot track, the man will be rotated head over heels 180 times per minute—exposed to the same air-blast forces a pilot ejected suddenly from a supersonic plane would experience.

The rocket sled, propelled by 12 4,500 - pound - thrust rockets, will have five seconds to reach the speed of sound and come to a complete halt.

In the relatively dense air encountered 4,092 feet above sea level (the elevation here), the results, the Air Force said, "actually simulate a bailout from an open seat at 40,000 feet at a speed of 1,800 miles per hour."

Scientists say they believe a human with no protective equipment has very little chance of surviving such a bailout. The conditions encountered will be reproduced accurately in new equipment made by Northrop Aircraft, Inc., Hawthorne, Calif.

Scientists must determine thresholds of reasoning, consciousness and memory of the crew members of a plane who someday may have to make such a bailout.

Two sleds—a test vehicle and a propulsion vehicle—make up part of the groundling's equipment. The vehicle is designed to withstand forces up to 100 Gs—one "G" being the normal pull of gravity.

Patriots in Maryland Would Save Oldest Ship

BALTIMORE (AP)—In an attempt to save the Navy's oldest ship, the Constellation, from the scrap pile, a group of Marylanders representing 27 civic and patriotic and civic organizations plan a march on Washington, D. C., Monday.

A special House subcommittee is considering a bill which provides for the restoration and maintenance of the U.S.S. Constitution and the scrapping of the Constellation and three other ships.

The Marylanders hope to persuade the subcommittee to report the bill unfavorably. The Constellaton, now rotting in Boston Harbor, was built and launched in Baltimore in 1797.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A prominent New York minister says the "spirit of community," which he calls the best defense against communism, "tends to be destroyed by our mass living."

Dr. Ralph Sockman, pastor of New York City's Christ Church, urged development of a church community to bring and hold together people detached from their homes.

Dr. Sockman made his remarks in an address yesterday to the first Methodist Convocation on Urban Life in America. An estimated 1,200 persons are attending the three-day convocation called by the Methodist Council of Bishops.

Power Shovels Made Here Bring Marion World Attention

Machines Find Use In a Wide Variety Of Digging Jobs

This is the first in a series on Marion industries that will appear in The Star from time to time.

By CHARLES MARTIN

Digging in the earth has been one of man's occupations for thousands of years During the last 70 years much of it throughout the world has been done with power digging machines manufactured in Marion

One of the largest and oldest companies specializing in the production of such machines is the Marion Power Shovel Co First called the Marion Steam Shovel Co it was organized by three local men in 1884 and produced its first steam shovel the same year

SINCE THEN the company has produced thousands of power shovels and cranes and because each one prominently displays the name "Marion" has brought fame to its "home town."

Many thousands of people in all parts of the world become acquainted with the name of the city as they watch the machines excavate for a huge dam or the basement of a new building lift steel girders high into the air or perform numerous other material handling chores

Some of the most famous and largest projects on which "Marions" were used are the Panama Canal the TVA dams Grand Coulee Dam Boulder Dam, and the Fort Randall Dam of the Missouri Valley Authority built in 1951

The first shovel produced by the company—a machine able to go only where railroad tracks existed or could be placed—was a midget compared with some of the self propelled giants of today which are able to go nearly anywhere

DUBBED THE "Barnhart Special" — in honor of one of the three men who organized the company—the first shovel had a capacity of one and one half cubic yards. It was first used on a railroad construction project at Greenville

The largest shovels now produced by the company have a capacity of 45 cubic yards — big enough to swallow the special in one bite

Although small the special was an improvement over many other existing power shovels of the day and soon gained popularity This was partly due to the know how applied to the design and manufacture of the machines by the three founders of the company Henry M Barnhart Edward Huber and George W King

That know how has continued through the history of the company and is applied today to the production of a full line of shovels

COMPANY OFFICIALS say that because users recognize this quality repeat orders from satisfied customers have aided the continuous growth of the firm

When the Barnhart special was produced the company had no plant of its own and used facilities of the Huber Manufacturing Co Total working force was some 20 persons

The company's first plant was located on W Center St on part of the present plant site Then a small plot of ground it since has been expanded to about 75 acres on which some 25 buildings are located Presently, the total number of employes averages 1 750 including factory workers office personnel salesmen erection crews and executives and administrative officials

PRODUCTION OF the railroad type shovels with several refinements and model changes continued for some 35 years and more than 1 000 were manufactured and sold

By 1908 the company had developed its first full revolving machines and manufacture of the railroad type in which the boom could swing only part of a circle began to decline

The first three - motor electric revolving shovel built that year marked but one of many firsts in the development and refinement of power excavators during the company's 70-year history

Notable among them was the design and manufacture in 1948 of what the world's largest power shovel With a 45-cubic yard dipper one of these machines could pick up the equivalent of an average size living room full of dirt move it two-thirds of a city block and dump it on top of a seven story building

For another comparison of the dipper size think of a building large enough to park two automobiles side by side and high enough to park two more on top of them That's the approximate size of the dipper on these giants

MACHINES OF THIS size are used mainly in coal strip mining operations and other open pit mines to remove dirt and stone from atop coal or mineral deposits Several of them are in operation in strip mining operations in southeastern Ohio

Other firsts pointed to with pride by the company include the development of the full swinging log loader in 1886 a railroad ditcher two years later a stripping shovel in 1910 largest dipper dredge in 1911 largest placer mining dredge in 1912 and several large suction dredges in 1914

In 1918 production lines were changed to turn out railway gun mounts for the Army Again in 1942 some changes were made to include the manufacture of shipbuilding cranes wharf cranes and 40-millimeter gun mounts Fewer shovels were built during this period and those manufactured were for use in war industries only

Excepting those two periods the company almost yearly turned out some new development in power excavators Others were the adoption of the gasoline engine powered machine in 1922 and the Marion Walker in 1939 followed by the 30 - cubic yard walking dragline in 1942

DESIGNED FOR USE in soft terrain these machines are able to walk almost anywhere on giant "shoes" Actually the machine rests on a huge flat steel bottom When it moves the bulk of the machine is picked up by action of strong "legs" which are moved by a device similar to a camshaft They pick up the front of the dragline and slide the rear along on the ground a few feet at a time This makes it capable of moving over ground on which standard endless track traction machines would bog down

Another first was the production of a 35 yard "knee action" stripper in 1940 The knee action was a new device to make possible the use of a longer boom on dragline machines

Down through the years the company has produced numerous shovels draglines and cranes each year, some for exacting buyers who ask for special features such as air conditioned cabs for the operator or special types of power supply and so one

WITH MORE than 12 basic models and numerous variations and weighing from as little as 45 100 pounds to the 45-cubic yard giants totaling some 1 700 tons the company uses vast quantities of steel and iron

As it arrives at the plant this steel may be in sheets from as thin as a piece of cardboard to more than a foot thick and as large as 120 inches wide by 60 feet long It also arrives as steel billets which are heated and formed into numerous shapes in the plant forging shop Other types of steel used are angle iron shafts and slabs

From the steel yard located in about the center of the plant the pieces are moved by overhead cranes or railroad flat cars into the various fabricating divisions for shaping and assembly

Electronic burning is one of the major departments where much of the sheet and slab steel is used Here the slabs of steel are laid on giant tables next to other tables on which large templates are placed

These templates are beaver board with the shape of the part desired outlined on them with white tape Using a photo electric eye the electronic burner is designed to follow the pattern and guide large oxy acetylene cutting torches as they burn through the steel

BEFORE THIS operation may begin however the part must be designed along with all the thousands of other parts which go into the manufacture of such machines

The real birthplace of the machines is in the engineering department Here men long trained in power shovel design daily ponder over design drawings and specifications to turn out improvements of existing equipment as well as development of new types of machines The engineering staff itself loaded with know how nevertheless turns to company field erection men and executives to insure production of the type machines the purchasers most want

The erection men supply much of the vital information needed by the office to meet these wants Roaming throughout the world they are on hand whenever an MPS machine is assembled Acting in a supervisory capacity they direct workmen employed by the purchaser in the assembly

FROM THE electronic burner department the large pieces of steel are sent to one of many other fabricating departments for further finishing Sometimes this means going directly to one of several different welding departments Welding both arc and oxy acetylene plays an important role in the production of large frames tubs booms, drums and many other parts

Other pieces of steel may be sent direct to one of the various machining operations where giant size boring mills planers saws lathes forming rollers drill presses and similar machines make the raw steel into wheels axles gears bearings and other such parts

As the parts are finished they are funnelled into the erection department where they are put together into one of the several different types of shovels

The larger machines are not completely assembled at the Marion plant Sub-assemblies are put together and shipped out to the purchaser for final assembly at his place of operations Presently the company is in the process of fabricating and shipping parts and machines to many countries of the free world

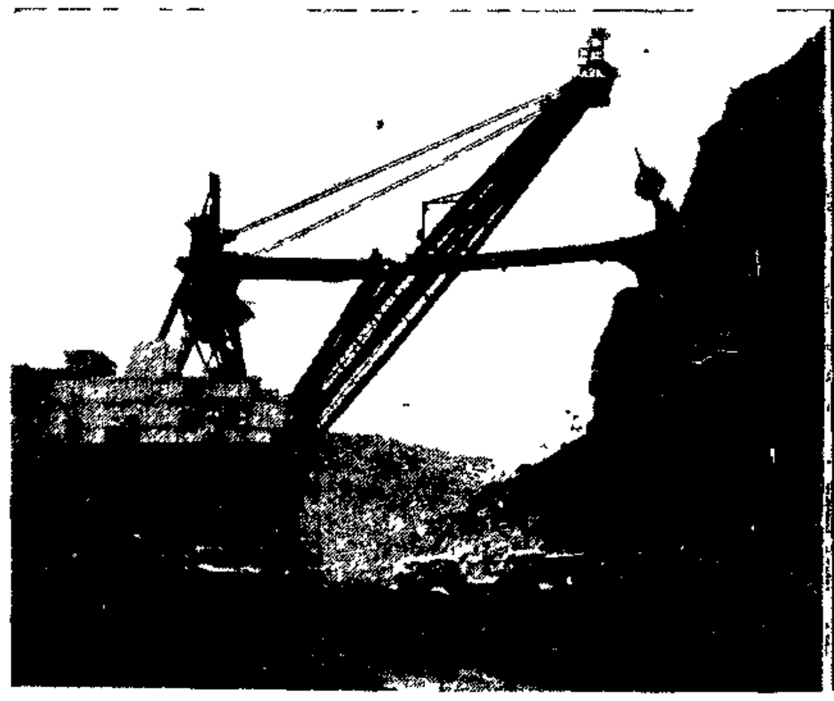
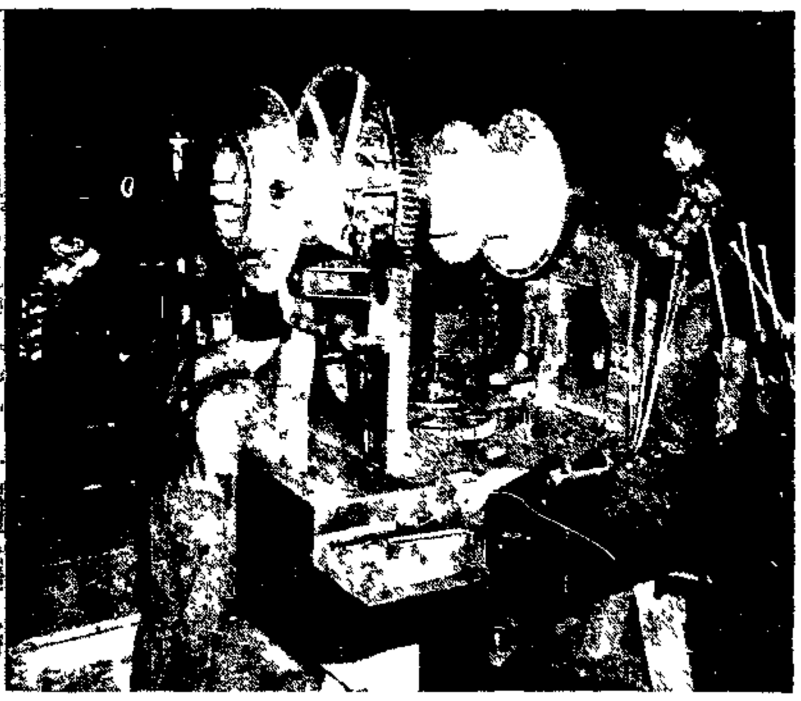
WHILE THE BULK of all machines is manufactured at the Marion plant some parts are purchased from outside suppliers These include such things as electric motors cable gasoline and diesel engines castings for crawler shoes dippers and a few other parts for which the plant does not have the facilities to produce

Not to be forgotten are the people who make continued production possible—the far flung sales force

Company employed salesmen are scattered throughout the nation with 15 different bases of operations In addition there are distributors in 32 cities in the U S and Canada and another 40 in as many foreign lands

The present executives of the company are John P Courtright president and general manager Adrian I Buck vice president in charge of engineering D E [illegible] assistant to the president Alex Gibson vice president and treasurer M A Correll vice president in charge of sales Merle Vaden secretary R D [illegible] manager of industrial relations and Jack [illegible] chief electrical engineer





SOME OF THE PHASES in the manufacture and use of power excavating machines produced by the Marion Power Shovel Co are shown here One of the oldest of such companies the Marion firm was first started in 1884 by three local men It is celebrating its 70th anniversary this year

UPPER LEFT One of the world's largest power shovels is shown in operation in coal strip mining operations on property of the Hannah Coal Co in southeastern Ohio First of these machines was produced in 1948 Weighing more than 1 700 tons it required 70 freight cars for shipment It could move a living room full of dirt two thirds of a city block and dump it on top of a seven story building

Rail Stocks Booming in Spite of Slump

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroad traffic and earnings have been bumping along on flat wheels now for five months—and February seems likely to make it six straight down-months in a row. Yet rail stock price averages have been gaining remarkably in recent days — the most snortingly bullish battalion on the stock exchange this year.

Contrarywise, during 1953 rail earnings rose notably—almost 5 per cent for the whole year, the Assn. of American Railroads guesses—but rail stock price averages sank, almost 17 per cent, according to the rail section of The Associated Press' stock price index.

A lot of this apparently cross-purpose movement can be laid to the special problems the railroads face these days—what with such bugaboos as planes and trucks and commuter hordes growing in rabbit-like progression.

But of late most of the gain in rail stock prices, about 12 per cent since the first of the year as registered on The AP's seismograph, may be traced to the public's reaction to the glamor of battles between personalities who want to get the chance to run or continue to run, particular railroads — as what man didn't when he was a youngster, or, for that matter, since?

Rail earnings last year look rosy, viewed against the backdrop of the year before. The Assn. of American Railroads estimates 1953's net profit after taxes as 875 million dollars compared with 836 million the year before.

But it points out that in the last four months of the year income was 25 per cent behind the same 1952 months. And in January this year car loadings were 11 per cent below those a year earlier. The drop was more noticeable in the East than in the South or West.

Rail stock price averages have had their big boost of late because of the battles to gain control of outstanding railroads. Shareholders—and therefore voters at the upcoming stockholders meetings — have sensed their voting rights' importance and raised the price at which they'll sell.

But there was strength in rail stock prices even before these battles for control broke. Gains were born of pleasing reports on earnings, and of progress in tackling some of the particular problems the rails have faced of recent years.

Oklahoma City Police Defied by Angry Bull

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — In the best Western tradition, a runaway bull stood his ground, snorting at officers and schoolchildren as police fired 14 rounds of ammunition into its body with revolvers, shotguns and rifles.

The bull broke through a wire fence at the Cornett Packing Co. during the noon hour and about 50 youngsters deserted their school ground to watch the big show.

Pistol shots only got the animal more angry as he tried to get away. Finally, one officer roped him and while he was held a shotgun blast through the brain finished him off.

Fostoria Packing House Is Fined $50

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—The Flechtner Bros. Packing Co. of Fostoria was fined $50 and costs here today on charges of misbranding meat.

Justice of the Peace Ralph Cain imposed the fine. The charges were filed by Ray Davis, a meat inspector of the Ohio Department of Agriculture.

Davis and Ray Land, another inspector, charged that weiners purchased in a local store were labeled "all meat product." They said a sample test showed the meat contained 15.10 moisture, 5.1 per cent above the maximum permitted under state law, and 5.1 per cent milk powder, 1.6 per cent above the maximum allowed.

INDICTED FOR MURDER

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The Clermont County grand jury yesterday indicted Mark Warren, 36, on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last week of his common-law wife Roberta Thomas, 40, and a neighbor Horace Sullivan, 65. The couple was found shot to death in Warren's home.

Victim of Amnesia Identified After 9 Years in Hospital

MODENA, Italy (AP)—In 1945 police found a forlorn elderly man sitting on a park bench. He didn't know who he was or where he came from.

In a hospital for nine years he was known as Signor X Y.

Now a man named X Y was enough of an oddity to be news when his designation turned up on the census rolls, so his picture was circulated in the Associated Press newsphoto service to Italian newspapers.

Yesterday 29-year-old Mario Mercari dashed into the hospital waving a Rome newspaper with the picture and shouted:

"He's my uncle. His name is Giuseppe Rizzi. Where is he?"

Signor X Y was brought out and his dull eyes lit up suddenly. He rushed into his nephew's arms. A doctor said the shock of the meeting started him back on the road to remembering.

Mercari said the German army in 1944 put his uncle to work and a tree fell on him. He was sent to a hospital and vanished until he turned up recently as Signor X Y.

Ava Gardner Unhappy

Noted Movie Star Would Give Up Fame for Family

By LAURA LEE

ROME (NANA) — What does Ava Gardner want most in the world? A baby. She didn't have to think twice before answering. The thing she has wanted most in life for a long time is a couple of babies and a normal, happy marriage.

What stands in the way?

Miss Gardner swallows, bows her head and shakes it ever so slightly, as if to say, "Who knows?" . . "Some Day" is all she ventures by way of reply—"It must be some day."

If there is putting on an act, Hollywoods No. 1 box-office star is a better actress even than her many fans believe.

"Marriage for two people in the field of entertainment is a very difficult thing," Ava concedes. "Bogie (Humphrey Bogart who is co-starred with her in "The Barefoot Contessa," now being filmed in Rome) who has been married to four actresses and I were discussing this just this morning."

AVA SHOULD KNOW. Her three husbands, Mickey Rooney, Artie Shaw and Frank Sinatra are all professional entertainers.

Frank Sinatra, as three-quarters of the world must be aware of by now, flew to Spain at Christmas time in a spirit of high romance, to attempt a reconciliation with Ava. He is expected in Italy momentarily for a renewed attempt.

A friend of Ava's says she talks about Frankie constantly, but confesses that they "Can't live together and can't live apart." What the trouble is neither of them is willing to admit in public—if either really knows.

A straightforward and fundamentally honest person, contrary to the public impression of her, Ava indicated haltingly that this was her overwhelming desire—to settle down and have children.

SHE MUST BE the envy of working girls the world over—this poor little teen-ager from North Carollina who became the nation's glittering No. 1 movie actress in the course of a few years, traveling to Africa, Spain, Italy to make pictures. Talk to her about this glamorous and exciting life and all you get is a bitter laugh.

"There isn't a single thing about this lousy business I like. I hate acting and hate not having a private life. You aren't allowed any privacy in this business.

"I haven't got a home. I haven't got a chauffeur or a car or even a mink coat. I work for only one reason. The same reason everyone works, because I need the money and I can make more this way than any other I know of

"People think, "all that dough.' Well, they're wrong. I never made much money until the last two years and now the government, agents, and all the necessary expenses of this job take most of it.

"I could walk out of making pictures tomorrow and never have a moment's regret. I have never liked any part of it. If I were married and had babies I would want to spend most of my time at home, but I don't think I would want to 'just sit at home.' I would want to study something.

"I began in this lousy business when I was 18 and I have never had a chance to study. I don't know anything about anything and I'd like to learn."

SHE MAY BE the No. 1 box-office favorite, but Ava refuses to admit even that she can act.

"I can take direction well, that's all," she said simply. "If I have a good director I seem to give a good performance Joe Mankiewicz is a good director and a wonderful writer, so I will give a good performance in 'The Barefoot Contessa'."

We were talking between scenes in Ava's dressing room at the Cinecetta studios. She was nattily dressed in glove tight black satin and sequin skirt, matching evening slippers with pencil-thin, incredibly high heels and a checked gingham shirt with tails out—she had slipped off the top of the evening gown for comfort.

"My four sisters are better off than I am," Ava went on, "They all have children.

Miss Gardner says it's true that her movie career was pure accident. She had taken a business course in North Carolina and was going to be a stenographer—or a secretary, she hoped.

Before starting out on a job, she went to New York to visit her sister, then married to Larry Tarr. He took some pictures, showed them to a friend who was working in MGM's New York office, and the first thing Ava knew, she was making a screen test for MGM—just poses, because of her "terrible southern accent" and the fact that she had never acted and didn't know the first thing about it. They signed her to a seven-year contract, $50 a week, and much too good to turn down. That was 12 years ago.

"I was one of seven children," said Ava. "My father was a farmer and we were very poor . . as I said, I never had a chance to study anything. . .if I had to be an entertainer, I wish it could have been music. I like music and I have an ear for it."

Kindergarten Unit To Sponsor Games At LaRue Saturday

In another attempt to raise funds for a proposed kindergarten program at LaRue, the village's kindergarten committee has planned two basketball games for Saturday night.

LaRue's Bloomer Girls, a team comprised of mothers in the community, will meet the Bobby Soxers, high school girls, in the opening game at 8 p.m. and Marion's American Legion G.I. Post No 584 will oppose LaRue Men's Home team in the second game.

The mother's team will appear dressed in black bloomer-type suits, of the style used several years ago, while the teenagers will wear the currently popular gym outfits. The women's game is scheduled to feature some rather "unusual" cheerleaders.

The games will be played at the LaRue High School gymnasium

The kindergarten committee includes representatives of almost every organization and profession in the village. Funds for the kindergarten, which the committee hopes to open this fall, now total $1,600. Other money-raising campaigns have included a Jubilee sponsored last August and a community calendar. The group is planning a benefit dance for March and another Jubilee program for this summer.

REV. MORTON DORSEY
Leads Evangelistic Service

Chillicothe Pastor Holding Revival At Oakland Church

Rev. Morton Dorsey of Chillicothe is the evangelist for the union Evangelical United Brethren revival in progress in Marion at Oakland Church. The nightly services are being sponsored by the five E.U.B. Churches of the community and will continue through March 7. Opening night of this special effort was Monday night, and attendance has reached nearly 300 at various services.

Centering his messages around the "person of Christ," the preacher has stressed the acceptance of Him as savior "in this age of chaos" and gives explanation of sin as the "moral cancer" of the times.

Described as "unusually effective" is the work of the music evangelist, Jack Bierce of Logansport, Ind. With his vocal solos he includes the recitation of verses of poetry appropriate to and supporting the messages of the speaker. He is accompanied by his wife. Taking part in the services also are the pastors of the cooperating churches. Rev. H. V. Fallor is host pastor.

You get more than whiteness when you use CLOROX!

CLOROX makes linens more than white... it makes them sanitary, too!

Clorox restores white cottons and linens to their original whiteness ... for Clorox removes dinginess, stains, even scorch and mildew. Still more important to family health, Clorox makes linens hygienically clean. No other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

Clorox also deodorizes, eliminates musty odor—a special advantage when laundry is dried indoors. Clorox conserves linens, too It's extra gentle, free from caustic, made by an exclusive, patented formula And Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash and washer.

In bathroom cleaning, CLOROX removes stains, deodorizes and disinfects!

Yes, used in routine cleaning, Clorox makes your bathroom tile, wash basin, tub and toilet bowl brighter, fresher, and sanitary, too! And Clorox is non-poisonous ... provides a type of disinfection recommended by hundreds of public health departments. See the label for the many ways Clorox can work for you!

You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!

1 Snowy white linens ... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.

2. Bright fast colors ... Clorox removes dulling film.

3 Lovely-looking linens. Clorox removes ugly stains even scorch and mildew

4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes

5. Sanitary linens ... Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.

When it's CLOROX-clean... it's SAFER for family health!

St. Mary Qualifies for Play in Central District Event

Irish Win 45-37 Against Weaker Granville Quintet

By JOHN SHORT

St Mary managed to squeeze out a 45 37 win over an inferior Granville Quintet last night at Westerville to qualify for the Central District tournament next week

That was the only thing to which the Irish could point with pride They were the first team to enter the district event from the exempted and parochial event at the Otterbein College gym

The Granville team offered the weakest opposition encountered by St Mary in several weeks The loosers were compared with Columbus Holy Family s squad by many fans But the Irish followed their usual habit of playing poorly against a poor team and the Granville crew managed to make it close game until the final three minutes

Hit 28 Per Cent

Hitting on only 28 per cent of their field goal attempts the Irish still managed to lead throughout the contest Butch Merchant dropped in a pair of charity throws in the first two minutes and after Jack Phenegar knotted the count Larry Ryan and Roger Michel batted in rebounds and Mike Anderson added one from the charity line to boost the Irish into a 7 2 lead From here St Mary built up a 16 8 lead in the first period while Granville was collecting only one field goal

During the second period St Mary connected on only two shots from the field both by Merchant Granville added three and by the halftime intermission had cut the deficit to 23 19 The Irish ended the first half with eight field goals out of 31 attempts

In that first half however St Mary s defense managed to bottle up the Granville attack and the opposition was thwarted in its attempts to move the ball into scoring range

Offense Stalls

In the opening minutes of the second half an attack of poor ball handling and erratic passing stalled the Irish and Granville moved back into the game Ray Montgomery hit from the field and Jim Unger and Jim Showman dropped in foul shots to narrow the deficit to 27 26 before Jerry Billenger Jack O Keeffe and Michel scored to shove the local team into a 33 28 margin at the start of the final period

During the last period Granville folded to live up to expectations of the crowd Montgomery left the game with five fouls with nearly six minutes to go He had been the top floor man in a pitifully weak offensive pattern

The Irish holding a 34 29 edge shifted into a control system but Granville narrowed the count to 35 32 before the St Mary squad went into a scoring spurt to cinch the verdict Merchant with a field goal and two free throws and Anderson on a layup stretched the winners lead to 42 33 in a 17 second period at the halfway mark

Merchant was the big gun in the St Mary attack with 18 points Anderson who played about half the game scored seven and Ryan popped in six Showman was high for the losers with 12 while Phenegar netted nine, all from the foul line

The Irish finished the game with 15 field goals in 54 attempts They added 15 of 28 from the foul mark er Granville which scored only seven times from the field stayed in contention with 23 of 36 attempts from the charity line One of the Granville regulars Ken Moss a 5 9½ forward was out of action with a leg injury

Newark Wins

In the nightcap Newark St Francis won its way into the district event with a 61 56 win over Mt Vernon St Vincent Heavily favored Newark trailed as late as the middle of the third period before pulling away Frank Murphy sparked its comeback with a 27 point output Bill Peterson flipped in 20 for the losers

Last Second Foul Throw Puzzles NIT

NEW YORK (AP)—National Invitation Tournament officials had a king sized headache today and it was all due to a successful 30-foot shot thrown up with two seconds to play

The desperation heave by Paul Scheer gave Wichita a 67-66 victory over Oklahoma A&M threw the Missouri Valley Conference race into a snarl and beclouded Wichita s status as an NIT entry The Wheatshockers said when they accepted the NIT bid that they would be obliged to enter the National Collegiate Basketball Championships if they should win the Missouri Valley race

The if clause didn t look very important at the time since Oklahoma A&M was comfortably ahead in the race But look at the situation now Wichita has completed its Valley season with an 8-2 mark while the Aggies are 7 1 and play Tulsa March 2 and St Louis March 6

If the Aggies win both they ll go to the NCAA Championships and Wichita will come to the NIT But a tie would force a one game playoff which could not very well be played before March 8 at the earliest

The NIT headache comes from the timing involved The tournament starts its first round March 6 The latest Wichita could play its first game would be March 9 even if it gets a first round bye

Then too it s possible though highly improbable that Oklahoma A&M might lose both its last two games which would send Wichita to the NCAA The NIT could invite Oklahoma A&M but the Aggies haven t played here in some time and they might not want to make the trip if they wind up behind Wichita

The exciting Wichita - Aggie game, and its ensuing complications completely overshadowed other developments on the college cage front Bob Mattick did his best to keep the fifth ranked Aggies in the game scoring 26 points while Cleo Littleton made 16 for Wichita No 14 team in the country in the latest Associated Press poll

The NIT added a minor note of confusion itself by inviting a second St Francis team This time it s the Loretto Pa with an 18 4 record St Francis The Brooklyn school of the same name was invited earlier this week That gives the NIT eight of its 12 teams —provided Wichita doesn t tie Oklahoma A&M and etc

The NCAA also picked two "at large" teams yesterday Loyola of New Orleans and Santa Clara

Loyola will play sixth ranked Notre Dame in a preliminary round double header at Fort Wayne Ind March 9 Toledo of the Mid American Conference will play a still to be selected "at large" team

Bratton Draws Suspension For Saxton Performance

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission today suspended welterweight Johnny Bratton and held up his purse of $4 770 for an unsatisfactory showing in his losing decision to Johnny Saxton last night in a nationally televised bout at the Philadelphia Arena

Bratton appearing before two of the state s three commissioners argued that I fought the best way I could and it isn t my fault that the crowd wasn t pleased

The commissioners reserved final decision until March 10 when Commission Chairman Frank Wiener returns from a vacation Meantime, they ruled Bratton former welterweight champion, could not fight in Pennsylvania

Bratton blamed his bad showing in the 10 round bout on the allegation that "Saxton didn t want to fight and continually held on and laid all over me

Herman Taylor who promoted the fight—his first nationally televised bout in conjunction with the International Boxing Club—told the commissioners he agreed it was not a good fight for people to watch but I d bet my life that it was an honest fight

The 23 year old Saxton was not summoned to today s meeting and had no representative at the hearing

Ez Charles To Get Shot At Marciano

NEW YORK (AP)—Ezzard Charles will make a second try to smash the ancient boxing legend that they don t come back when he faces heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano in a 15 round title fight at Yankee Stadium June 17

No former heavyweight ruler ever has been able to regain the crown and some of the best of them have tried including Charles Gentleman Jim Corbett was the only ex champ to get two cracks and he was flattened both times by burly Jim Jeffries

Then I guess it s up to Ezzard to break the record said Tom Tannas co-manager of the [illegible] old Cincinnati Negro after the match was closed yesterday with the International Boxing Club

Marciano will collect 40 per cent of all receipts while Charles will receive 20 per cent under the terms arranged by President Jim Norris of the IBC Tannas and Al Weill manager of Marciano

It should gross about $500 000 or $600 000 at the gate said Norris Weill said the figure was conservative and should do a couple of hundred thousand more

Norris said it has not been decided yet whether to show the fight on home television or to beam it to theaters but it looks like parlor fans are going to be out of luck Theater TV figures to get the pri[illegible]

Marion Whips Johnstown in Bid To Clinch Second

Barons Take 5-Point Edge After 3-1 Win Against Jets

By GARY SAMS

Marion's Barons tightened their grip on second spot in the International Hockey League last night with a 3-1 win over third-place Johnstown in a fast game on the Coliseum ice.

Second period goals by Gordon Vejprava and Dutch Delmonte after the visiting Jets opened the scoring in the first period were the margin of victory.

Smallest Crowd

The win, witnessed by a disappointing crowd of 911—by far the smallest crowd of the season — moved the Barons five points in front of Johnstown and seven ahead of fourth-place Toledo in the fight for second spot in the IHL.

It was Marion's fifth straight victory and 10th in a row on home ice and marked the fourth Baron victory in five meetings with the Jets this year. Three of the wins over Johnstown have come here where the Jets have yet to win a game.

Marion continues its bid to clinch second spot in the IHL tonight at Troy. The game tonight is followed by a contest at Johnstown Saturday night before the Barons again return to home ice Sunday for a clash with the IHL's front-running Cincinnati Mohawks.

Johnstown took its only lead of the contest at the 15:45 mark of the opening period when Don Hall countered for the Jets. The IHL's leading scorer, stationed in front of the nets, took a pass from in back of the Baron goal and shoved the puck past Goalie Lou Crowdis. Ross Kelly and Arnie Schmautz were credited with assists on Johnstown's lone goal of the evening.

Dippy Simmons, the Johnstown goalie acquired several weeks ago as a replacement for Claude Roy now with Milwaukee, was forced to bat away 11 shots by the Barons during the first period. Several spectacular stops protected the Jet lead in the period as Crowdis was turning away seven Jet shots.

Johnstown's lead stood up until the 6:48 mark of the second period when Vejprava, leading goal scorer in the IHL, scored the first of his two to knot the score at 1-1.

Barons Take Lead

Vejprava gathered in a pass from Steve Brklacich in back of the red line and skated all the way down the right side of the rink, eluding a Jet defenseman and shoving the puck past Simmons as he skated across the crease.

Marion scored what proved to be the winning goal 10 minutes later. Delmonte batted in a rebound for a 2-1 lead at the 16:44 mark. Jet Goalie Simmons had turned one Baron shot away but Delmonte was there to shove the puck into the almost unprotected net. Tony Poeta and Phil Vitale assisted on the play.

The Baron's final goal came with only five seconds remaining in the game and the Johnstown nets unprotected. Vejprava's shot from 15 feet out with a Johnstown player in front of him concluded the scoring.

Delmonte assisted on the play which came after Johnstown had lifted its goalie and inserted five forwards and a defenseman in the lineup with 53 seconds left in an effort to knot the count. Johnstown shots at the Baron nets in the final minute failed to connect and Marion picked up the puck and went down for its third goal of the game.

Goalie saves during the final two periods were even, with Simmons winding up with 30 saves and Crowdis with 26. Several of Crowdis' stops were on the spectacular side.

A total of 10 penalties were called by Referee Mickey Drouillard, five against each team, but none resulted from any serious scraps.

Kenny Schultz, who stands third in the IHL scoring derby, sat out almost the entire game after testing a bad knee in the first minutes of the first period.

YMCA Will Offer New Course in Golf

Country Club Pro Agrees To Handle Groups For 8 Weeks

JACK STODDARD, Country Club pro, who will instruct a new golf course beginning next week at the YMCA is shown above correcting the grip of Tom Bland, a Y member. Stoddard will instruct the eight-week course which is scheduled to open next week.

The YMCA Physical Department today announced plans for a spring Golf school to be offered to both members and non-members of the local Association.

Jack Stoddard, PGA golf representative and professional of the Marion Country Club, will teach the course which will include eight class sessions over an eight-week period. The first class is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Classes will continue at that time throughout the remainder of the instruction, to be offeretd on a group basis to men and women and boys and girls, over 12 years of age. Classes will be conducted on the west Y gymnasium floor. The Y committee on golf has announced that all registrations and classes are subject to division should a large registration list occur.

The course in golf will consist of such items as nomenclature and golf parlance, golf ettiquette, fundamentals of grip and swing, short game technique and putting. Group instruction is necessary although individual attention will be available to all registrants.

Persons interested in taking the course have been asked to acquire at least one club, preferably a wood, driver, brassie or spoon. For those who are unable to comply with this request, clubs will be available at the YMCA when classes begin.

Persons may register for the class by appearing in person or calling the desk at the YMCA. Fees have been set by the committee at $4 for Y members and $8 for non-members. The fees represent a 75 per cent discount for the golfers who will be interested in private lessons during the golf session by recognized PGA instructors.

Industries Nail Down Title for Industrial Play

Marion Industries wrapped up the championship of the YMCA Industrial League Wednesday by deefating Raymond 82-68. With one more game remaining on its schedule, the Industries five clinched the Industrial League trophy with a record of six wins and three losses and are eligible to participate in the District YMCA Industrial tournament in March.

The District play-offs for YMCA Industrial League winners in the North West District of Ohio will be played in Marion March 20. Winner of this tournament will appear in Columbus at the Ohio-West Virginia Sports Festival where state and area championships are decided.

Harold Dillion and Dick Mulvaine tossed in 33 and 30 points respectively to pase the Industrial League champs to their first local championship. They took a 20-16 first period lead and holding a six-point lead until early in the third period moved out to a comfortable 12-point edge which they preserved through the final period. Chuck Kinkaid led the Raymond scorers with 21 while Finch and Fensel followed with 19 and 17 points.

Bird-McGinnis in a low scoring affair dumped Alloy 44-28 and Ashley dumped the UAW-CIO 54-41 in the other games on the card. Bird-McGinnis played the first seven minutes of the initial quarter and totaled only five points before two buckets and foul just prior to the finish gave each team five points for the first eight minutes. The Legion then broke with a 20-point rally in the second period while checking Alloy to six to spell the difference. Richie Wolfe was high for Bird-McGinnis with 10 points while Harold Garver pitched in 12 for Alloy.

Led by Dick Howard who tallied 26 points, the Ashley Merchants jumped to an early lead and never were behind to feat the UAW-CIO team. Howard, who has been one of the league's top four point getters got 18 of his points in the final half. Davidson led the losers with 16 points.

Pirates Ousted From Morrow Tourney Play

MT. GILEAD—Chesterville and Sparta remained in the running for Morrow County cage tournament honors last night here by eliminating Marengo and Cardington in a pair of consolation matches.

Chesterville rolled by Marengo 55-40 and Sparta trimmed Cardington 61-51. Cardington's futures squeezed by Chesterville's subs 44-36 in a tourney reserve tilt.

Next tournament action, at the Marion Coliseum Friday night, will send Edison's reserves against Marengo's JayVees at 6:30 p.m. and Sparta against Chesterville in a consolation match at 7:45 p.m. prior to the championship battle at 9 p.m. between Iberia and Johnsville.

The tournament comes to a close Saturday night at Mt. Gilead, with the loser of the championship game meeting the winner of the consolation game for the tourney runner-up slot and Cardington facing the winner of the Marengo-Edison tilt for the reserve championship.

Chesterville rolled out front 17-6 in the opening quarter and led all the way in its game with Marengo. The losers trimmed the Chesterville lead to 27-20 at halftime but the winners came back to build up a 43-26 bulge at the three-quarter mark and coast in.

Morris James led the Chesterville attack with 14 points while Wayne Nauman contributed 11 and Roger Craig 10. Bob Flannery and Emmett Price, both with eight points, were tops for the losers.

From the foul line, Marengo countered on 18 of 36 attempts while Chesterville made good on 19 of 43 trys.

Sparta outscored Cardington 45-31 in the first three quarters and then withstood a 20-point outburst by the losers in the final quarter for the win.

Sparta led only 12-10 at the first quarter but at halftime had widened the gap to 27-20. The winners hit on 23 of 26 shots from the charity circle while Cardington shoved in 13 of 23 attempts.

Chuck Givens was high for the winners with 18 points while Larry Hulse added 16. Bob Casto chipped in with 10. Dean Curl led the Cardington attack with 13 markers and was supported by Jon Sellars with 12 and Tom Conaway and Ralph King both with 11.

Cincinnati Eyes Mound Ability

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs haven't breathed the rarified air of a first division finish in the National League since 1944. But along about this time hope always blooms that "this is the year" the boys will reach at least a speaking acquaintance with pennant contenders.

That was the situation today as almost half a hundred Redlegs reported to open their 1954 spring training under the eye of a new manager—Birdie Tebbetts.

Like the hopes of a first division finish, the fact a new manager was on hand wasn't particularly new either. Tebbetts is Cincinnati's fifth manager in the last seven seasons.

He heads into spring training with one of the biggest crops of pitchers ever to attend a Redleg camp.

School in Seattle Serves To Help Teen-Agers Follow Correct Path

SEATTLE, Wash. (UP)—Rejected teen-agers are getting a second chance here because 114 men and women are willing to work for nothing Their goal—stop juvenile delinquency before it starts

King s Garden, a 370 pupil non-denominational boarding school run by "stateside" missionaries, provides a home for abandoned or abused children as well as those from broken homes

"We believe no child wants to be bad and only need a little love and help to be good" said A B. (Mike) Martin founder and director of the school "Our job is to give them both

Some boys and girls are forced to steal just to eat If we can get them before they reach that stage, we can save them "

Many of the students come from slum areas Some neighborhood children are sent for the day by parents who want to support the organization

Although endorsed by public and private welfare agencies the school receives no financial help from them King s Gardens "looks to the Lord for money and is maintained by individual donations

The missionary teachers and administrators receive no salary They work for room board and $35 a month spending money — when there is any

The school began almost by accident when a teen-age social club for neighborhood children sponsored by Martin and his wife grew too big for their front room

"We had a hundred boys and girls in the house one night and decided to expand," Martin explained

To continue his work with children Martin gave up his oil business With a group of friends he acquired an abandoned tuberculosis sanitarium The repaired the broken-down buildings and opened the school

"Sometimes I thought we d have to give up" Martin said "Even with the Lord s help it s been a nip and tuck battle to get the $650 a day we need"

To cut food costs King s Garden has its own poultry farm which supplies eggs and chickens for holiday feasts A truck garden provides some seasonal vegetables A commercial print shop does work for various religious groups The organization also operates a home for the aged on the same grounds The small fee charged helps defray expenses of the children s care

"We ll let the senators judges and policemen argue about what causes juvenile delinquency " Martin said We re too busy trying to do something about it "

Vermont Blood Donors Answer Emergency Call

MORRISVILLE Vt (UP) — Townsfolk here did themselves proud by contributing 122 pints of blood one day at a visiting Red Cross mobile unit

And they also helped preserve the blood

No ice cubes were available in Morrisville to pack the precious blood during the unit s return trip to headquarters in Burlington So residents and Red Cross personnel went around clipping icicles from buildings

Salmon Becomes Thrifty Main Course

Tasty Casserole or Loaf Are Protein Dishes For Lent Season

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associate Press Food Editor

SALMON LOAF. Use during Lent and after.

Found: A really delicious Salmon Loaf. If you've been looking for just such a recipe—one that has the right amount of bread crumbs, milk and seasoning to set off the good rich flavor of salmon — here it is. The sauce to accompany the Salmon Loaf is simple—condensed cream of celery soup thinned with milk, but the parsley added to it gives it a delightfully fresh flavor.

Garnish your salmon loaf with slices of lemon and rounds of carrot, and serve it with baked potatoes and another vegetable such as peas, snap beans or broccoli.

A one-pound can of salmon is a fine thrifty way to serve your family a protein course during Lent. By the way, the salmon bones are softened in the canning operation and needn't be discarded; they provide calcium which our bodies utilize for strong bones and healthy teeth.

For salmon loaf, use thrifty varieties of salmon such as "pink" or "chum." The salmon is flaked in this dish and so color, texture and oil content are not important here.

You might also like to try this salmon casserole recipe because it's thrifty and easily put together. Serve it with a green vegetable or a crisp salad.

DELICIOUS SALMON LOAF

Ingredients: One 1-pound can salmon, 2-3 cup evaporated milk (undiluted), 2 cups soft bread crumbs, 1 egg (well beaten), 1 tablespoons minced onion, ½ teaspoon salt) 1 teaspoon chili powder, ⅛ to ¼ teaspoon tabasco sauce.

Method: Turn salmon, including liquid in can, into mixing bowl; add evaporated milk and bread crumbs; mix with a fork until blended. Add egg, parsley, onion, salt, chili powder and tabasco; mix well. Turn into well greased loaf pan, about 7½ by 3½ by 2½ INCHES. Bake in a moderate (375F) oven 40 minutes or until center is firm. Serve with Parsley Sauce. Makes 4 servings.

PARSLEY SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 can condensed cream of celery soup; 1-3 cup homogenized milk, 2 tablespoons minced parsley.

Philippines Trying Use of Helicopters

MANILA (UP)—The Philippines Air Lines is experimenting with helicopters to see whether they can be used advantageously in the islands.

Two of the three - place Bell helicopters, such as those first used in the Korean war, were placed in service last December.

One is based at Manila International Airport and the other is based at the airport at Cebu for use in the central Philippines.

A PAL spokesman said the two machines had been used primarily for transportation to out-of-the-way places which vehicles have a hard time reaching on a charter basis.

PAL has no plans for further purchases in the immediate future, he said, although the world-wide airline envisaged use of larger helicopters in a "feeder" system to supplement its present trunk line system throughout the country.

One of the difficulties that will have to be overcome, he said, is the question of who would build the necessary helioports—the airline, the government, the cities involved or a combination of all.

QUICK WORK

CONCORD, N. H. (UP) — On a Monday, police explained in court that they had picked up Clayton C. Canney, 24, of Concord for theft of a truck from his employer. The alleged crime occurred on Sunday after completion of deliveries in Rochester Sunday was Canney's first day at the truck job.

Pull of Sun and Moon Causes Earth Pulsation

LOS ANGELES (UP) —The earth constantly pulsates like a living heart, says a geophysicist who takes the earth's pulse daily in his laboratory.

Dr. John Pettit of the University of California at Los Angeles said the earth's pulsations are caused by the gravitational pull of the sun and moon upon the elastic earth.

A steady rise and fall of the earth, which in some places measures as much as two feet, follows the line of attraction of the two heavenly bodies as the earth rotates, Dr. Pettit said.

The university scientist measures the earth's pulsations with special instruments including a giant electric brain and "the world's most sensitive" gravimeter.

The gravimeter measures changes in the force of gravity which varies according to the distance of the earth's center of mass, and thus indirectly indicates the rise and fall of the earth.

Outer Space 'Whistles' Under Scientific Probe

STANFORD, Calif. (UP)—Stanford University's electrical engineers are eavesdropping on mysterious "whistlers" in the ionosphere 700 miles beyond the earth's surface for clues to the makeup of that outer region which man must know before he attempts space travel.

The so-called whistlers sound more like a buggy-whip lashing through the air. Scientists believe they are caused by bundles of electro-magnetic energy set loose by lightning flashes.

Some whistlers, research indicates here, methodically are back and forth between two distant points of earth, passing en route through the outer ionosphere.

The strange sounds eventually also might point the way toward less expensive long-distance telephone calls. Indications are they coud be used instead of powerful transmitters.

The Air Force's Cambridge Research Center is financing the study.

Pair Same in Many Ways

British, Swedish Princesses Look Alike

LONDON — (NANA) — Princess Margaret, Princess Margaretha, they sound alike—and it's fascinating to work out how much they are alike.

They are Princess Margaret of England and Princess Margaretha of Sweden

Though Princess Margaret is petite and sophisticated and Princess Margaretha is tall — 5 feet 9 and has never yet used lipstick — they have a lot more in common than the violet blueness of their eyes Princess Margaret's were voted "The most beautiful in the world" by the Artists League of America

Both girls are great-great-grandchildren of Queen Victoria, and maybe their soft gleaming brown hair and fair complexions can be traced to their common ancestry

Both have been girl guides, both have attended summer camps Both have spent their lives amidst the grandeur of royal palaces and the simplicity of country homes

AND BOTH HAVE known the poignant grief of untimely bereavement

Princess Margaretha's father was killed in the air crash in which Grace Moore lost her life

Both girls are fond of children Prince Charles and Princess Anne are devoted to Auntie "Margo" Princess Margaretha has one younger brother, the heir to the throne, and three younger sisters to look after

And she takes it seriously — last year she went to a finishing school at Beaconsfield to learn cooking and domestic subjects

Princess Margaret loves to sketch details for her dressmakers, and Princess Margaretha is now learning to make her own clothes Both take size four in shoes size six in gloves

Both like music and the opera but unlike Princess Margaret, Princess Margaretha can shop bicycle go to the theatre or movies without police surveillance or detective escort. (Stockholm crowds, incidentally, are less demonstrative in their loyalty)

PRINCESS MARGARETHA neither drinks nor smokes yet, but like Princess Margaret she loves walking and dancing, particularly the waltz and the tango

In fact, the greatest difference between them is in their fortunes

Until she is 21 the Swedish princess receives no allowance from the state and on her marriage the amount will be voted by the Riksdag

Princess Margaret on the other hand, receives 6 000 pounds ($15,200) a year taxed, increasing to 15,000 pounds ($42 000) on her marriage And she also has the income from 20,000 pounds ($56 000) left her by the Hon. Mrs Richard Greville.

Helicopter Airlines In Rapid Increase

WASHINGTON (UP)—Although the first commercial air-worthiness certificate was granted a helicopter only seven years ago, more than 10 per cent of the nation's population today live in communities served by helicopter airlines

These 16 750,000 Americans are inhabitants of the 84 communities in the Los Angeles New York and Chicago areas which are served by the nation's three certificated helicopter airlines

Planes official publication of Aircraft Industries Association says that in addition to the 84 points presently being served by the three line there are 46 more communities which have been certificated by the Civil Aeronautics Board for helicopter service and which will be integrated into the present route systems as additional equipment and operating facilities become available

The three lines today operate 17 helicopters which vary in allowable passenger capacity from two to 12 persons

The full impact of these revolutionary craft is yet to be felt, however Best known for the tremendous tasks they performed during the Korean campaign and for delivering food spraying crops and performing innumerable other jobs throughout the world, helicopters now are coming into their own as practical transportation vehicles

A recent boon to the prospects of a network of helicopter passenger routes was the announcement by the military of a 40-passenger plane with speeds estimated in the neighborhood of 160 m p h These speed and capacity necessary for larger planes shoul furnish range, financially successful airline operation

New Plans Tested For Scar Removal

CHICAGO (UP)—A new method of removing scars through the use of a revolving stainless steel wire brush has been developed by a New York doctor.

The new technique, called "plastic planing" is reported to be far superior to sandpapering The technique makes use of an instrument known as the "Kurtin Plastic Planer" which was invented by Dr Abner Kurtin

The machine uses a stainless wire brush shaped in a disc form similar to a dentist's buffer, which revolves at 12 000 r p m The patient's face is first cooled by a liquid in a plastic bag for about 15 minutes After the chilling of the skin, the skin is sprayed with a local anesthetic (ethyl chloride) The whole face can be planed in 10 minutes

Kurtin says the operation has developed to the point where it can be simply and safely done as an office procedure The "before and after" effects have been demonstrated in a case involving removing wrinkles in an aged woman a case of freckle removal cases of removal of scarring caused by acne smallpox accidents and other rarer types of skin diseases

A super-siren producing inaudible sounds of about 34 000 cycles a second can up close ignite a piece of cotton in a few seconds or boil water in a few minutes

Criminologist Hits Soft Sentences of Juvenile Offenders

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — An internationally known criminologist recommends a tougher policy against juvenile first offenders so they won't get the idea they can "get away with something."

The recommendation comes from Dr. Thorsten Sellin, chairman of the sociology department of the University of Pennsylvania, who said too many young offenders are receiving "second chances."

Sellin claimed too many judges "lean on the old legal axiom that every dog is entitled to one bite and are satisfied to deliver a lecture and dismiss the youngster with a warning."

"The axiom does not apply to juvenile delinquents," Sellin said.

The criminologist said youngsters should receive a punishment which would be justified by the facts of the case so the law can "set him straight."

"If he gets the idea he can get away with something he is very likely to try again," he added. "Many judges are versed in law but not in people."

The criminologist suggested an iron fist instead of a velvet glove would set the pattern for the young offender's attitude toward crime.

"Today's car thief, vandal or truant may be tomorrow's gunman," Sellin warned. "If punishment has any value in discouraging crime, it is because the would-be criminal knows that the punishment is certain to follow."

X-Ray Treatment Used For Cancer of Eyelid

CHICAGO (UP) — X-ray treatment offers an excellent chance of curing cancer of the eyelid if the disease is detected early, two specialists report.

Drs. Milford D. Schultz of the department of radiology, Massachusetts General Hospital, and Charles G. Stetson, department of radiology, Englewood (N.J.) Hospital, reported on their findings in Radiology, a medical magazine for radiologists.

"Satisfactory control of early cancer of the eyelid is a matter of record," they said.

They said cancer of the eyelid is just about the only tumor in the eye area which is susceptible to treatment by radiation. Most of the other tumors arising in or about the eye, they said, are best treated by surgery.

'Phys-Ed' Is Popular With Grade School Children

Program Now Covers All Elementary Pupils In City System

By ELAINE BALLINGER

It is a big job—the business of seeing that all children of the Marion public schools have opportunity to develop healthy bodies in addition to proper development of their mental capacities. This is the job of the city's three grade school physical education instructors, Miss Margaret Craig, Warren Foster, and Robert Peach, and it is vigorous though rewarding work.

School authorities agree with the three teachers on emphasizing this point—the program is not one of building varsity athletes. Its purpose is to establish in each child resources of strength, endurance, co-ordination, and good body mechanics for well-rounded living and personalities which make of the individual a totally integrated citizen. Therefore physical educa- has been placed on the basis of a required subject.

CHILDREN OF ALL six grades now have this chance of taking part in the "phys-ed" classes whereas last year at the organization of the program, only third to sixth graders participated, with two teachers. Mr. Foster was added to the staff this year.

A result of the program seen already, the teachers say, is an attitude of greater co-operation on the school grounds, and ability of the children to get along together better at playtimes. Disclaiming the idea of some parents that their classes are only play periods, the instructors point out that these activities definitely do not take the place of recesses. There are rules to observe here as in any other classes but the children are enthusiastic about taking part and hate to miss any of these class periods.

HINDRANCES which the teachers run into include lack of proper facilities and equipment in some schools, although other newer buildings have good gymnasiums. In the older structures, only place for carrying on of the work is a basement room not well lighted and inadequate in size for the activities required.

One of the inconveniences caused the teachers is the transportation from one school to another of paraphernalia rivaling the stock of a sporting goods salesman. There are balls, Indian clubs, bean bags, skipping ropes, record players and records, and many, many other "items too numerous to mention."

Another trial is the limited time element with which the teachers have to cope. Periods for the work is now 20 minutes for each grade once a week. Ideally, the program should be scheduled for once a day, the teachers say. In the majority of schools where physical education is a part of the curriculum, time is given to it two or three times a week at least, and the periods are half an hour in length.

STILL ANOTHER point which the instructors emphasize is that some parents do not understand the importance of proper clothing for the children's sports. The need for buying tennis shoes or sneakers is for safety, they point out. The special footwear prevents slipping. Ease of movement is better assured in shorts and T-shirts as well as safeguarding of health. For example, if the same weight of clothing as in the regular classroom were worn, more likelihood of taking cold would be risked, Mr. Peach explained. The attitude of parents on this matter is simply one of better understanding of the elements involved.

Joy of the entire picture is seeing the eager response of the youngsters to the efforts put forth by their teachers in their behalf, from small first graders to their older sisters and brothers.

Activities of first and second grades where boys and girls are together are group "socializing" games, rhythmic and singing games, and simple stunts such as walking a chalk line or "rowing a boat" which develops co-ordination.

FOR THIRD AND FOURTH grades the boys and girls are still together and play beginning team games, have rhythmic activities, and do stunts and tumbling. A favorite with a lot of children seems to be the tumbling, and the younger ones particularly like "cat and mouse," Miss Craig said.

In fifth and sixth grades the boys and the girls are divided into their respective groups for most activities, but for rhythmic exercises they are together. Their sports include team work games, and in the rhythmic category, folk dances, carry - over games in which the skills of such sports as basketball are learned—types of shots, passing and dribbling, softball—how to swing the bat, stand in the box, and throwing, and volley ball—serving, passing over the net, and similar techniques. The fourth group of activities for the older children involves the basic skills such as throwing, running, jumping, and kicking.

With much yet to accomplish in the grade school athletic setup for Marion, the teachers look ahead to their future plans when facilities will be available for volley ball and basketball with both indoor and outdoor courts and to longer periods when additional help is given.

IN THE FALL, the children can have their gym classes outside. Most of the time, of course, this is a: indoors program. Schools entirely without gymnasiums are North Main Street, Olney Avenue, Oak Street, and Glenwood. The rooms for gym classes at Olney and Oak are in the basement.

Enjoyed particularly by the teachers and children are new "Community room" gymnasiums at Washington, Silver, and Mark Street Schools. One under way at Pearl Street School will be in use next year.

One of the good points of the school system's program of athletics is its adequately trained and experienced personnel.

Mr. Peach has a master's degree in education and experience in YMCA work as well as in school athletics. He was "Y" boys' work secretary in Cleveland two years before teaching in the Cleveland secondary schools.

Miss Craig, with a bachelor of science in education degree, taught at Fremont and at Versailles, seventh to twelfth grade girls' physical education.

Mr. Foster, holding the bachelor of science in education degree, was a sports instructor and swimming coach at Wayland Academy in Wisconsin before coming to Marion.

PUPILS IN THE PHYSICAL EDUCATION class at Vernon Elementary School do tumbling exercises. Children in all schools hate to miss their "phys-ed" classes, and tumbling is one of the most-popular sports taught in the program, which is offered this year for the first time to all six grades. Not all schools have as fine a gym as this in which to play. In some schools classes are held in small basement rooms.

TEXAS CUSTOM

DURHAM, N. H. (UP) — The girls of Mortar Board, University of New Hampshire honor society for women, operate a tutoring service — $1.50 an hour for instructing their less studious fellow-students. Young Obtains Another Block Of NYC Stock

800,000 Shares Are Acquired in Deal Set At Nearly $20 Million

CLEVELAND (AP)—A new shift of strength in the battle for control of the New York Central Railroad appeared possible today as directors of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway prepared to meet

William White NYC president said in New York last night that 800 000 shares of NYC stock held by C&O had been purchased by certain wealthy individuals who must have paid about 20 million dollars

To Issue Statement

C&O had no comment on the report but said it would issue a statement when its board meets this morning

Presumably the statement will deal with the stock since it is one of the topics expected to be discussed

The 800 000 shares represent about 12½ per cent of the 6 417 410 outstanding and are held by ICC order in a voting trust exercised by the Chase National Bank

They are the key issue in the proxy battle for control of the NYC being waged by Robert R Young former C&O board chairman

White said we consider this sale a favorable development for us It explodes Mr Young s claim that 90 per cent of the New York Central stockholders are behind him

Needs Stock

He did not elaborate on the remark but a NYC spokesman said that if Young had 90 per cent support he would not be buying huge blocks of stock

The 800 000 shares were placed in the voting trust after the ICC in 1948 said the NYC and C&O were competing roads and turned down Young s bid for two directorships on the Central board Young was C&O board chairman then but resigned last month to make his bid for NYC control

'Conniving Going On

White s statement yesterday added

There seems to be some conniving going on Exactly six years ago this very day Chesapeake & Ohio published a pamphlet stating the advantages to the C&O stockholders of C&O holdings of New York Central stock, but now that Mr Young has other ambitions the interest of C&O stockholders is apparently ignored

Notwithstanding all the public statements which have been made there would seem to be a continuance of close relationship between Mr Young and Chesapeake & Ohio In any event C&O has been very cooperative We understand that the C&O board of directors is going to have a special meeting tomorrow to ratify the sale which has already been made '

Young who has been attacking what he calls the Morgan bankers on the NYC board had no comment on the statement

At current rates the 800 000 shares of NYC stock held by C&O are worth $19 200 000

Opinion Sought On Schwable's Mental State

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Marine court of inquiry had a military psychiatrist on call today for an opinion on the mental state of Col Frank H Schwable when he signed a false germ warfare confession

There has been testimony that Schwable suffered mental torture long solitary confinement and brutal mistreatment as a prisoner of the Communists in Korea

Marine Army and Air Force officers and enlisted men already have testified Schwable appeared unstable about the time he signed the concocted 'confession ' some seven months after he was captured

Some witnesses have said they were convinced the 45-year old flier s mind cracked under incessant grilling and punishment Only one of Schwable s fellow passengers on a long truck ride from one prisoner of war camp to another has said Schwable appeared relatively normal at that time

Court attorneys said expert testimony would be sought from Lt Col Vincent J Cassone a psychiatrist who examined Schwable present h[illegible] defense following his repatriation Cassone The court [illegible] will be one of the last witnesses [illegible] whether a c[illegible] called before the four member tri[illegible] should be recommended tribunal give Schwable a chance to [illegible] against Schwable

The Show Went On

Among reasons for being disturbed about the odd handling of the nomination of Earl Warren to be chief justice of the United States, these two are small consequence because they have happened before:

1. Embarrassment to Chief Justice Warren. Some of the bitterest Senate debates on record have been at the expense of Supreme Court nominees, such as the debate over the nomination of Charles E. Hughes 24 years ago when his critics charged he was too conservative.

2. Conduct unworthy of the U.S. Senate. The chairman of the Judiciary Committee in which the Warren appointment has been manhandled is William Langer of N. Dakota. Sen. Langer is angry and is making Warren the scapegoat for his anger. But senators have been angry before. One of the best federal judges who never was given a chance to sit on the Supreme Court, John J. Parker, was denied that privilege because senators were angry and made him the scapegoat for their anger in 1930.

There is a stronger reason for being disturbed about the character defamation of the former California governor by Sen. Langer's decision to publish irresponsible slurs which never had been investigated.

This whole sorry business shows signs of having been rigged up solely as a show for television. If so, the worst fears of many thoughtful citizens have been justified. They have warned that this newest medium of publication would tempt legislators to act on impulse at the expense of careful deliberation.

Sen. Langer had his brief moment in the klieg lights while representative democracy walked in the shadows.

Puppy-Tail Kindness

No issue is being made in Congress of a presidential recommendation that the income-tax deadline be moved from March 15 to April 15.

The change is expected to go through without a dissenting voice being raised, which is a peculiar way for Americans to act, to say the least.

It has been as good as admitted by the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee that the only good reason for the change is to give tax lawyers and accountants more time to slave over the income-tax returns of big taxpayers.

As far as little taxpayers are concerned, moving the dealine a whole month in the direction of Memorial Day is no kindness. Most of them have no need of lawyers and accountants to help them anyway.

They want to get the job done and over with before it's time to put away their galoshes and nose drops. That March 15 deadline, occurring a week before the advent of spring, has come to represent a signing-off ceremony at the end of winter. Moreover, if a fellow performed the ceremony early he might get his refund, if any, in time to buy fertilizer and grass seed for the lawn.

It is no kindness to cut off a puppy's tail an inch at a time. The deadline for income taxes should be moved forward, not backward, if it must be moved at all.

Remembering the Maine

The twinkle in the eye of an editorial sanctum visitor the other day belied his statement that he was a veteran of the Spanish-American War. But that was the reason for his visit.

Feb. 15 this year had been the 56th anniversary of the sinking of the Maine in Havana Harbor, he pointed out. In historic hindsight, this event made war with Spain inevitable, though in fact the tragedy temporarily cooled off the war fever which had been building up to a climax. When war was declared, on April 24, 1898, Spain declared it first, not the United States.

Our visitor thought the "forgotten war" should be remembered. Its survivors are now 80 years old on the average and dwindling fast. They will soon be gone. But to them their war is important.

It revealed the key role of naval power in a nation with two long seacoasts. It caused the Panama Canal to be constructed. It rid the seas of the last remnants of Spanish domination, marked the United States as the defender of freedom in two hemispheres and laid the foundations of thought and policy on which the United States built its prestige as a major force in international affairs.

Our visitor declined the invitation to reveal his own age but had one more claim to enter in behalf of remembering this war most Americans have forgotten. It was the only war, he asserted, which produced a net gain for the United States. It lasted from April 24 to Aug. 12, cost about a billion dollars, brought only 290 battlefield casualties though more than 2,500 deaths from disease and effectually disposed of Spain's once - ambitious dreams of empire while giving the United States Puerto Rico, Guam and the Philippines and giving Cuba its independence.

Next year, on Feb. 15, remember the Maine!

Far East Problems

By David Lawrence

Geneva Conference May Produce More Talk Only

Nothing has been agreed upon with reference to the forthcoming conference at Geneva on the Korean and Indochina problems except to talk. Hence misgivings now about what conclusions may be reached will not necessarily turn out to have been justified.

The secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, knows by this time that American public opinion does not favor admission of Communist China into the Security Council of the United Nations, and Congress has indicated clearly that the day Red China goes in will be the day the movement in the United States to get out of the U.N. will receive its biggest impetus.

So the fears which are being expressed about a "Far Eastern Munich" are in the nature of warnings. They are based on an apprehension that Great Britain and France may force the United States into an isolated position at the Geneva Conference and that large sections of world opinion would then blame America for "blocking peace" in Asia if the American secretary of state refuses to go along with proposals to put Red China into the U.N.

The informal expressions of attitude which have come from congressional leaders now that Secretary Dulles has explained his viewpoint are in themselves salutary, for they serve to underline to the whole world the fundamental issues and the trend of American opinion. To assume that Dulles will be out-traded at Geneva or that America will not be able to support her moral position, just because other nations may adopt an unmoral position, is neither logical as an inference based on the agenda of the Geneva conference nor warranted by any statements made thus far by anybody in authority in the Department of State.

Senator Knowland, the majority leader, rightly calls attention to the dangers that will ensue if Red China is proposed for membership in the U.N., with the support of Great Britain and France, as the price for a settlement of the Indochina war. He is justly concerned that another one of those coalition governments which ruined freedom in Poland and turned China over to the Communists will be offered as an expedient way out of the Indochina war.

The realistic fact is that Dulles is a trained negotiator in whom at the moment there is or is not complete confidence depending on prejudices growing out of past parleys. Obviously he gave ground at Berlin when he consented to let the Indochina question be discussed at the same conference at Geneva with the Korean problem, though he secured an agreement that the second issue would not be tackled until the first one is completed.

While it is true that this gives the Communists some leverage—they can stall on Korea until a discussion on Indochina forces a change in the agenda — the game works the other way, too. America can stall on the Indochina problem and raise important obstacles until and unless the Korean provlem has been satisfactorily solved.

The point is made, on the other hand, that the French people, who are keenly interested in an early settlement of the Indochina war, will not tolerate any tactics that prevent the making of an armistice like the one in Korea and that America will be unpopular in France unless Washington goes along with the French on a stalemate basis for Indochina.

There is, to be sure, some chance that such an unhappy stage may be reached in the discussion, but it is necessary to remember that the United States is furnishing the bulk of the money for the Indochina war and that her voice will be listened to in Paris before steps would be considered looking toward any settlement that advances the cause of Communism in Southeast Asia.

Dulles has been trying to get France to ratify the European Defense Community Treaty. For this reason, he made concessions to the French viewpoint when he agreed to allow the Indochina question to be brought into the Geneva Conference along with the subject of Korea's unification.

To agree to talk about anything nowadays in an international conference is something entirely different from agreeing to accept any theoretical proposals to be offered by the other side. It's a long time 'twixt the making of an agende for a debate and a final agreement, and the Geneva Conference may wind up after a few weeks merely with a decision to hold other conferences on Korea and Indochina, separately or together. Talk springs eternal from the breasts of present day diplomats.

Fathers and Mothers

By TRUMAN TWILL

Here is another psychiatrist, Dr. Jackson Smith of Baylor Medical School, Houston, talking about subject which is automatically interesting to everybody still living—death.

It is the one thing we are all going to experience and the one thing we are not prepared for, he points out. He also points out another matter: We don't even know how to lead up to the situation gracefully any more.

Enforced retirement and idleness for the aging may have some economic justification. That is where the practice originated. During the Great Depression, some of the big brains figured out that if the oldsters could be dumped the youngsters could step into their shoes. The youngsters agitated for old-age pensions and retirement plans for purely economic reasons.

Compassion for the old-timers had nothing to do with the big retirement push in the thirties. It has nothing to do with the push in the forties and fifties. It is no more or less than another consequence of case-hardened materialism.

It had its origin in the practice of trying to manage other people's lives for them by mass pressure and precept, and it is dismally bad psychiatry, according to Dr. Smith. The psychiatric problems of older people are growing apace, he warns. They face not only death at the end but a sense of uselessness before the end.

All the accent is on youth. The kids can hardly wait until they grow up, get married and have kids of their own—then, when it happens, they discover they have become obsolete.

They hang on to their jobs as long as they can. But when the time comes for them to be turned out to pasture they frequently don't know what will become of them next.

"There is a fear of not being wanted," asserts Dr. Smith. "How many people do you know who have the old homestead to go back to? As long as they feel they are contributing, they have some goal in life. Nationally, we are faced with a marked increase in the number of older persons to be cared for. We have to make some provision to keep these people doing something."

Then this psychiatrist, who has learned what all psychiatrists need to know before they are competent to deal with men and women who are no longer young, ties up his whole proposition.

"As a nation we have no philosophy," he declares.

That's it, Doc.

We have refrigerators, a surplus of butter and a deep-down conviction that men should be free to seize whatever opportunities come along, or not to seize them, as they choose.

We have the world's highest standard of living, the largest debt, the most telephones, inside plumbing, sheets on the bed and a TV set in every other household. We have automobiles too strong for us to handle safely, the most bathtubs, the loveliest women, the biggest schools and the highest crime rate.

But we have no philosophy as a whole people. It's a lack that keeps showing through all the other things we have, as an absence of salt would show through a meal. And one of the places where it shows through is failure to honor our fathers and our mothers, an obvious rule of civilization as far back as the time of Moses.

Extravagant Selection

HARTLAND, Conn. (AP)—It would have been cheaper for this town to have had four selectmen than the usual three. Recently a run-off election was held for two candidates who tied for the third selectman's post. Cost of the election, $200 cost of the selectman's salary, $50 annually.

Proper Policing Cuts Highway Toll

By Raymond Moley

While Secretary Dulles tries to bring peace abroad, the President has taken a step to stop the slaughter at home. For our highways kill more Americans in a year than the Korean War accounted for in three.

His Conference on Highway Safety last week hear many plans and proposals to reduce automobile accidents. It should be added that there are as many suggestions for reform as there are accidents.

Last summer I presented a piece declaring my farewell to touring, which was in substance a fervent prayer of thanksgiving that I had once more crossed the continent alive and a firm resolve never to tempt Providence and lunatic drivers again.

The result of my piece was very considerable mail from people who shared my sentiments — a refreshing contrast with the response to more controversial political pieces.

* * *

EVERYBODY agrees that the highway situation is awful, and lots of people are doing things about it, but the slaughter goes on.

When highways are improved, some of the lunatics who use them simply step more firmly on the gas When cars are improved by adding more horsepower — properly used, a safety factor in itself — the lunatics use that horsepower to get nowhere quicker.

The President and Secretary Weeks and some others made speeches, and Bob Moses presented his excellent program for improvement.

After reading all the suggestions and pondering all the problems involved, I am convinced that two things that are supposed to be the twin hopes of a troubled civilization are at the root of the trouble — speed and youth.

It seems to me that the President, instead of advocating lowering the voting age, should advocate lifting the driving age.

The National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters reports that the frequency of fatal accidents in which drivers under 25 are involved is 62.4 per cent above the national average, while in nonfatal accidents these drivers account for accidents at a rate 37.1 per cent above the national average.

* * *

IN NEW YORK these flaming youths had 97.9 per cent more than the state's average in fatal accidents, and 65.3 per cent more in non-fatal accidents.

The element of speed is demonstrated in a very convincing way, for accidents with fatalities mostly involve an element of excessive speed.

There are other factors, to be sure, such as defective cars, and bad and narrow highways But the real problem is a failure of human beings, mostly young human beings, to make haste slowly.

The basic remedy is more care and discipline in granting and renewing licenses and in policing the highways.

I have been riding in taxis in the crowded streets of New York for a good many years, and I haven't seen more than half a dozen accidents. But in a transcontinental automobile trip — I have made ten in eight years — I see one or more every day.

* * *

THE CONCLUSION I derive from that is that New York City is properly policed, speed is almost impossible, and the great majority of cab drivers are not too young.

With restrictions on the granting of licenses, especially on the basis of age, with more police, and with more drastic punishments for speed and carelessness, we might well save 1,000 lives a year.

Before government undertakes further experiments in controlling the growing of crops, the healing of the sick, the housing of the people, and other activities of the welfare state, it might see to it that it is doing what it should with its primary job of policing.

Atom Enters Industry

By MICHAEL AMRINE

A private enterprise atomic industry is quietly developing in the shadow of the vast government operations.

The industry has a multimillion-dollar potential. The government's atomic projects are rated at 12 billion dollars. Based on the amount of the atomic field monopolized by government, perhaps 5 per cent of this figure could be the extent of the private investment in fissionable materials.

Latest sign of the speed with which the new industry is maturing is the formation of a mutual fund entirely specialized in atomic investments. In its first few months of operation the company was given nearly $750,000 to invest.

The fund is similar to others of the investment operations whose managements, handling the capital of numbers of persons, concentrate on particular industrial fields. What the $750,000 measures then is financial faith that profits will develop from private atomic discoveries and developments.

The fund was established by two Washingtonians — Merle Thorpe Jr, an attorney formerly with the Petroleum Administration for Defense, and Newton I. Steers, formerly assistant general manager of the Atomic Energy Commission. Thorpe is the fund's board chairman and Steers is president. The fund's directors include such figures as Arthur M. Hill, chairman of the Greyhound Corporation and Richard P. Dunn, president of Julius Garfinckle & Co., Washington department store.

As Steers sees it, there are actually four industries operating today outside the government monopoly, rated at 95 per cent of all atomic activities:

1. Mining leads the list. The sale of uranium ore to the government in 1952 alone has been estimated at 50 million dollars. The government supervises the digging and is the only customer. For this reason the current style of "rush" to the ore fields, such as the present-day mining boom on the Colorado plateau, is far from the wildcat exploiting of such minerals as gold in past years.

Abroad, firms operate in the Belgian Congo, Canada and South Africa. A strike was recently announced in Australia, and in due time uranium mining companies will spring up there.

2. Next is the business of processing radioactive compounds, which have thousands of uses in medicine, industry, and agriculture. The government in its atomic engines makes vast quantities of radio-active material but to a great extent leaves the processing of what might be called "raw radiation material" to private industry, so far as private users are concerned

Pharmaceutical houses have been interested in setting up their own sections for compounding radioactive medicine and some smaller companies work in the field.

3. The atomic instrument field is next in importance. Ten years ago there were perhaps half a dozen companies in the field, most of them living directly from one or two government contracts and pretty completely dominated by the bomb project.

As radiation and electronics have grown, the field has grown. These firms took in approximately 20 million dollars in 1952.

4. Another field, one of great potential, is in nuclear engineering and design. Several such companies are already operating. Frequently staffed and led by former atomic energy commission scientists and engineers, they offer consulting and contract services to the field of mining, instrumentation, and atomic power plant design to private companies as well as the government.

No one expects a field so overshadowed by the government to grow up overnight. Conservative leaders of business have joined sceintists in their conviction that atomic power will be a big business in our generation.

Persuader

By Frank Tripp

Key to Occupational Therapy

Having seen a convalescent who had never touched a more important tool than a nail file make a presentable ash tray out of a square of discarded copper roofing, all sympathy for helpless householders fled from me.

What manacled masculine hands need is a persuader, which conceivably might be a wife who has to do her own tinkering, else hire a plumber or electrician every time a faucet leaks or a light cord short The woods are full of handcuffed gentry who shy away from a tool as they would a pestilence

The persuader idea is an old one to occupational therapists. Maybe you've thought that the workshops found in modern hospitals are just time-consuming diversions for shut - ins. They have a more important purpose

* * *

THIS MUSE is another byproduct of that arm I broke a while back To get the wrist and fingers limbered I bought the traditional rubber ball. It became a constant pocket companion—to squeeze

By occupational therapy standards what I needed was a cow to milk Because the theory is that true progress depends largely upon doing purposeful things with the affected member. Though I know how to milk I had no cow, so I squeezed and squeezed the rubber ball

Mostly I was just wearing out the ball. I complained about it and was directed to a room where nice old ladies were weaving cloth, rolling out putty pancakes making bookmarks and such.

* * *

I LIKE nice old ladies and there were tools there for nice old men, even for a 200-pounder like me who had been weeks getting where he could hold a glass in his left hand. That proud achievement prompted Fanny to observe, "Of course that would be the first thing you'd accomplish." Not being an Elk, she has no idea of the importance of the left hand

Well, anyway, I was impressed with the need to do something besides squeeze a ball My advisers were sore that I didn't join the nice old ladies. Instead I just threw away the ball and put my pampered hand to work, like nothing had happened to it

The squeezing business stopped, although there were cute numbers around the place (in white uniforms) worth squeezing

As soon as I got rid of the ball I found myself unconsciously doing all manner of things with my bothering wing that had seemed impossible. Proving that man is the softest of animals.

In a week I had almost forgotten the misfortune which once haunted me as perhaps a permanent disability, and Fanny was reminding me that I was two months behind on her orders in my own occupational therapeutic workshop. Goaded by her, I began to pursue irksome household chores with more zest than ever.

* * *

THE WORTHWHILE lesson gained from this temporary separation from handicraft is that never again can anybody make me think that they "just can't do anything with their hands" I'm convinced that anybody can, even under severe handicaps.

It's just the will to do, and the patience. There's nothing to using a hammer, saw or wrench beyond determination to do so. No masterpiece may result, but satisfaction, saving, and a new self-confidence await.

The persuader needn't be a broken arm or a rubber ball. A persistent wife, standing by with a broomstick, might help. By smothering the whines and whimpers of a tenderfoot ready to give up.

So, in my book, "occupational therapy" assumed a new and more important stature. It isn't just a gimmick to take one's mind off his troubles—it's a spur to make him lick 'em.

Head of Bucyrus Waterworks Cites Need for Extra Sources

BUCYRUS — Water consumption in Bucyrus increased nearly 30,000,000 gallons last year while the annual rainfall was decreasing six inches and the amount of water avavilable from the Sandusky River also declined sharply, Waterworks Supt. Roy E. Riley disclosed in his report of operation of the municipal waterworks during 1953.

Riley said 505,192,000 gallons of water were treated last year in the waterworks, compared with 474,000,000 gallons handled in 1952. At the same time, the annual rainfall dropped to 25.92 inches, the lowest in several years, from a 1952 total of 32.4 inches.

The city pumped 260,000,000 gallons of water from the river last year or 51.3 per cent of the total water treated. In 1952, the city pumped 303,000,000 gallons or 63.6 per cent of all water used from the river.

"This past year of general drouth over the state has emphasized the improtance of Bucyrus obtaining an additional source of water, whether it be from wells or from new reservoirs," Riley points out in his report.

Mayor Frank P. Sitler has recommended to council that a new surface storage reservoir to be built but no specific proposal has yet been submitted to council.

Average daily treatment of water last year was 1,385,000 gallons compared with 1,304,000 treated daily in 1952. Per capita daily usage last year was 126 gallons against 118 in 1952.

Chicagoan Scores 100 in Civil Service Test, Rejects Job

CHICAGO (AP)—Oswald K. Sagen, 47, made a rare perfect grade of 100 in a civil service test for a $10,390-a-year job, but he says he probably will reject the job.

Commission officials said they believed it was the first perfect grade ever made in a test for a city job.

Sagen was one of 10 applicants who took the test for the post of chief statistician in the City Health Department. He explained he was happy in his present position, chief of the Bureau of Statistics for the Illinois Health Department in Springfield, which pays $9,420 a year. He said he took the test in event an unexpected development made his present position less desirable.

Benson Is Honor Guest Of N.Y. Business Group

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson says the Republican farm program "is largely what the 80th and 81st Congresses enacted into law in 1948 and 1949."

At a dinner in his honor last night, given by food industries and farm organizations, he said:

"What we recommend as regards variable price supports is what the Department of Agriculture itself proposed in 1947.

"It is what the former occupant of the White House (Harry S. Truman) strongly urged in the spring of 1948."

Showdown Avoided

McCarthy-Stevens Furor Threatened GOP's Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — No matter who won the skirmish between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and the Eisenhower administration's secretary of the Army, Robert T. Stevens, the Republicans as a party were bound to lose if the fighting became a public, televised clash.

The Republicans had campaigned in 1952 on a promise to get Communists out of the government. And McCarthy was demanding information on why it took the Army, under Stevens, more than a year to get rid of a major who had refused to answer questions about membership in subversive organizations.

A wide-open fight between McCarthy and Stevens on this point, in an election year, might have split the party into McCarthy Republicans and Eisenhower Republicans. The showdown was avoided.

Stevens, who had ordered his generals to stand back while he handled the senator personally in a public hearing scheduled for today, agreed to give McCarthy what he wanted after talking with the senator two hours yesterday behind closed doors in the Capitol. McCarthy then called off today's hearing.

Afterwards, Stevens was represented as surprised that the outcome was considered a defeat for him. But the general impression was that he yielded and, in so doing, created a bit of a mystery.

Did he decide on his own to back down? He seemed determined up to a minute before he saw McCarthy yesterday, to go through with the showdown today, for when a reporter questioned him, he said: "I have no comment on anything. Tomorrow I'll have plenty of comment."

Or did President Eisenhower, who returned to Washington just shortly before the face-to-face Stevens-McCarthy meeting, tell his Army secretary not to force an open break with the senator? Or did Vice President Nixon arrange it? He was close by while Stevens talked with McCarthy.

The White House said the President did not set up the meeting. Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said the idea for the session was his—not Eisenhower's or Nixon's.

Stevens said later he is not a man who surrenders. No matter what name is placed on his action, the fact is he gave McCarthy just what McCarthy wanted:

1. McCarthy wanted the names of the Army people who handled the case of Maj. Irving Peress, a New York dentist, who received an honorable discharge this month after refusing, 14 months before, to answer questions about membership in subversive organizations.

2. McCarthy wanted to question two generals who had had some part, even though remote, in handling Peress' case. Stevens had told the generals not to appear before McCarthy because, he said, the senator was "abusive."

Stevens, after his session with McCarthy, not only agreed to give the names of all those connected with the Peress case but let McCarthy call them for questioning. And he said McCarthy could question the generals too. Stevens said he's "confident" now officers will not be "abused."

Before it can be established whether this was a surrender or a truce, this question must be answered: Will McCarthy pursue this investigation and call the witnesses or will he let the Army make its own investigation and, perhaps, give the public a report?

It's possible the Eisenhower administration, which has had several bouts with McCarthy in the past year, may have decided to have it out with him once for all in this case and then suddenly changed its mind for strategic reasons.

Several months ago, in discussing foreign affairs, Secretary of State Dulles said that, if war came, the Eisenhower administration would choose its own battleground. In this dispute with McCarthy the Army had no choice of battleground. McCarthy chose it.

These are the facts as given by the Pentagon itself: Peress was commissioned a captain in October 1952 and a few days later refused to answer the questions on subversive organizations. Nevertheless, two months later he was called to active duty. In October 1953 he was made a major. On Dec. 30, 1953, Stevens said, the Army decided to let him out because of an investigation it had made of him. On Jan. 18, 1954, the Army told him he must leave by Arpil. On Jan. 30 McCarthy called him for questioning. The dentist refused, citing the Fifth Amendment, to answer questions. Two days later he asked for and got an honorable discharge.

McCarthy wants to know why it took the Army so long to make up its mind about Peress. Stevens already has acknowledged there were soft spots in the Army's handling of a case like this.

SOUGHT BY FBI. Charles Falzone (above), believed to be a native of Dunkirk, N. Y., and currently sought for a $6,000 payroll robbery at Tonawanda, N. Y., was put on the FBI's list of "10 most wanted fugitives."
